Over 200 guests are present at this reunion, which is one of the most successful alumni gatherings ever held in this city. Several young men and former instructors of the Marist order have travelled a great many miles to take part in the festivities, which also mark the 21st anniversary of the opening of the college.

Pleas of not guilty were entered and the men were held for a hearing Saturday, being locked up in default of bonds. Haley was visiting friends here and on July 25 was found in a ball field seriously injured. He died soon afterward, but before death made a statement in which he said he had been held up by two men and that when they found he had no money they knocked him down and jumped on him. Nolan and Flood were arrested yesterday.

POWERFUL WILD MAN
CAPTURED AFTER BATTLE

Chased for 2 Miles Through Woods—

Desperate Fight

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 7.—After a chase of several miles through the suburbs terminating in a desperate battle through the woods on Spring Hill, Patrolman Philip Mall today captured a naked wild man. The man, a powerful foreigner had been annoying residents for several days and repeated efforts were made to capture him. He was turned over to the department of charities for examination as to his sanity.

BAD HOUSE MAN
GETS TWO YEARS

In Court for Conducting a Bad Joint in Kirk
Street

Mr. Sheridan's Little
Row Cost Him $20
In Court

The severest penalty that the law allows a police court judge to impose was handed to Mitades Kutsumakos today by Judge Enright when his case finally came up for trial. Kutsumakos was charged with being the proprietor of a house of ill fame, and was sentenced to two years in the house of correction at Cambridge.

The recipient of the record sentence did not put up any defense this morning except to endeavor to lay the blame upon his wife. Needless to say this sort of a defence carried no weight with the court. The defendant appealed and was held in $500 for the September session of the superior court.

Bully Fine For Bully

Judge Enright was of the opinion that the case of Matthew Sheridan, charged with assault and battery upon Francis Gallagher, was one of a bully and his victim. The complainant told the court that the defendant had assaulted him and chased him into a bar room and that he would have given a worse beating than he got if he had not been ushered out of the bar room. He further said that Sheridan had assaulted him before and also threatened to whip him many times. The cause of the trouble, he stated, was that he, Gallagher, had refused to walk out of the Tremont and Suffolk mills when Sheridan, who worked with him, was discharged by his overseer.

Assaulted An Officer

Matthew T. Dolan was charged with assaulting Officer Fanning but stated that he was drunk and did not remember anything about the affair. From the officer's description Dolan is a very aggressive fighter and can use

Body of Mrs. Allen T.
Smiley Was Washed
Ashore Today

REVERE, Aug. 7.—The body of Mrs. Allen T. Smiley of Malden was washed ashore at point of Pines today. Mrs. Smiley disappeared from her home yesterday. She had been suffering from a nervous collapse and as the body was dressed and bore no evidence of violence it is thought by the police that she threw herself into the water.

The discovery of the woman's maiden name, Ruth M. Woodworth, on an undamaged and her initials in a wedding ring led to the identification. Mrs. Smiley was 40 years of age and was a native of Nashua, N. H. She was married two years ago at Portland, Me., where she had lived with her sister, Mrs. C. A. Morgan, for a number of years.

either hand with equal speed and force. Dolan was fined $50 and allowed two months within which to pay it.

Thomas Corcoran, a man who has spent the large part of the last year in jail, was sent back again for a two months' stay. Corcoran stole a saw from Joseph Cook of 30 Smith street and did not have a word to say about the theft. In fact he thanked the court very politely when he received his sentence.

Fought the Officers

Timothy Donovan and John Sullivan also tried to get a decision over the Lowell police force but they did not succeed to any great extent. Both men punched, bit, scratched and swore when Officers Conney and Fanning placed them under arrest, but both were finally subdued and led to the wagon. Judge Enright sentenced both men to a two months' term in jail. Sullivan appealed, but Donovan took his sentence without a murmur.

Catherine E. Cawley was again before the court this morning charged with drunkenness. She has been in confinement for nine of the last twelve months. "Can you keep sober if I give you an opportunity to reform?" asked the court. Catherine promised faithfully that she would abstain from the use of intoxicants and was released upon probation.

Officers Sheridan and Clark took Frederick J. Temple out of a Middlesex street lodging house last night at the request of the proprietor. Both officers stated that the man was drunk and making a disturbance. He told the court that he did not think he was drunk last night, although he admitted that he had been drinking. The man did not seem to be of evil disposition and Judge Enright gave him a week within which to pay a fine of $3.

Allice Merrill and Thomas Dolan were each fined $5 for their second arrest within the year for being intoxicated. There were two $2 drunks in court this morning and four first offenders who were released without coming into the court room.

FAMOUS AIRMAN
KILLED BY FALL

Col. Cody, Anglo-American
Aviator Dropped to His Death

Passenger Also Lost His Life In Accident at Aldershot, England

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Colonel Cody, the famous Anglo-American aviator, was killed in an aeroplane accident at Aldershot today.

Cody was trying out a new aeroplane when he met with his death. In his machine with him was a passenger named Evans. They were flying over the open country, most of which is government land in the Aldershot district and had just reached government house when their aeroplane was seen to be traveling badly and finally to fall. Some people rushed to the spot where it struck the ground and found the dead bodies of Cody and Evans among the ruins of the aeroplane.

Cody's Neck Broken

Cody's neck was broken and both of Evans' legs were fractured in the fall and their bodies otherwise were mangled.

Cody's sons, Leon and Frank, were eye witnesses of the accident which was attributed by spectators to the body of the craft proving too heavy for the wings.

Replica of "Buffalo Bill"

Cody was one of the most interesting figures in aviation, more especially in the British isles. He was a real soldier of fortune with a varied career. He was well known to the public in England as he attracted attention by his peculiar makeup. He wore a sombrero, a long mustache and an imperial with long hair, and was almost an exact replica of "Buffalo Bill."

Experimented With Kites

His first experiments were made with box kites. These he developed on the British military training grounds at Aldershot. He achieved such success with his kites that the British war office attached him to its aviation staff.

His theatrical appearance and methods created some prejudice against him which, however, was largely dispelled when he forswore American allegiance and became a British subject. The public in England only began to take him seriously when he carried off the military prize of £20,000 open to the world at Salisbury plain in August, 1912.

Since that time he has built several machines and was constantly experimenting with improvements.

SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 7.—Anticipating an outbreak among Superior dockworkers, the Great Northern railroad today increased its special police force from 40 to 60 men. All are heavily armed and the docks are being patrolled night and day.

At a mass meeting of Alliance strikers last night, F. H. Little, Industrial Workers of the World leader, read a general strike proclamation but no action was taken. He said he hoped to call a general strike which would affect all sailors on the great lakes and workers on coal docks, lumber yards and in the mills.

WASHINGTON CLUB

Held Its Second Outing of the Season Yesterday Afternoon—Married Men Gave Single Men Walloping

Eleven on the Merrimack was the scene, yesterday afternoon, of the Washington club's second outing of the season. It was one of the most successful outings that the club had ever had and that's saying some. The piece de resistance of the outing was a ball game between the married men and single men of the club. The married men won, because married men are methodical and better organized than single men. They mind better than single men and there's a reason. Charlie Keyes was umpire and he took his life in his hands when he accepted the job. The score was 11 to 1 in favor of the fellows who have to go home early nights.

The ball game was followed by a clam bake and the bake was followed by a lot of hungry men. It was a Rhode Island bake and the best ever. Drinks of all descriptions, less two per cent. alcohol, were served, but hermetically sealed coffee seemed to have the call. There was a concert by the Manhattan orchestra, exhibition swims an other sports too numerous to mention. The last straw was a tug fight between the men of the pill and the brief, the doctors and lawyers and the contest has not yet been decided.

SOME VERY SWEEPING CHANGES

In Laws Affecting the Young Employees—Will Become Operative Next Month

Laws affecting young employees and sweeping changes in labor conditions that will take place this fall when new legislation becomes operative will probably affect over 2500 people in Lowell. These laws will go into effect the first day of September.

These changes are almost revolutionary. Those who believe in the new law call them the greatest forward steps yet taken by the American Commonwealth. Some employers and some others wish they had been given more time, that the laws might have been passed in 1912 to become operative in 1914.

The law dealing with children of school age and this includes private and public schools only when the instruction in all the studies required by law is in the English language.

Employment in Stores

No boy under 15, and no girl under 14, can be employed in a store after 10 o'clock in the evening, for more than 10 hours in any day or for more than 54 hours in a single week.

Employment certificates are not to issue to children under 15 without a pledge or promise signed by the employer or by an authorized manager or superintendent, setting forth the character of the work. There must also be a certificate signed by a physician that the child has been examined and is sufficiently sound to perform the work.

After September 1 no boy under 15 and no girl under 14 can be employed more than six days in one week, more than 54 hours in the week, more than 10 hours in one day, before 5 a. m. or after 10 p. m., in any factory work.

or other heavy rolls driven by power, laundering machinery, upon or in connection with any dangerous electrical machinery or appliances.

Not adjusting any hazardous belt to any machinery, or cleaning hazardous machinery, in proximity to any hazardous or unguarded belts, machinery or gears while such machinery is in motion, or on scaffolding, in heavy work in the building trades, stripping, assorting, manufacturing or packing tobacco, in any tunnel in a public bowling alley, nor in a pool or billiard room, and the state board of labor and industries may, after public hearing, lengthen this list of dangerous occupations.

Under 18 Years

The law then considers again the minor under 18. No such minor under 18 shall hereafter be permitted to work in or about blast furnaces, in the operation of hoisting machines, in boiler or cleaning hazardous machinery, in motion, in the use of any polishing or rolling machine, at work tending, as blacksmith, fireman, engine operator or conductor, as brakeman or operator on any boat or vessel, in operating motor vehicles of any description, or other dangerous occupations, in the manufacture of phosphorus matches, in any distillery, or in any other establishment where malt or alcoholic liquors are manufactured, packed, wrapped or bottled in that part of any establishment where intoxicating liquors are sold, including drug stores. This list may also be lengthened by the board, after public hearing.

Persons Under 21

No person under 21, the law reads further, shall be permitted to work in, about, or in connection with, any saloon or bar room, and no person under 21, in any employment, shall knowingly be taken, sent or caused to be taken to any disorderly house or house of prostitution or association, or to any immoral place of resort or amusement.

No person under 21 shall be permitted to work as messenger for a telephone, telegraph or messenger company, in the distribution, transmission or delivery of goods or messages before 5 a. m. or after 10 p. m. (except for the delivery of messages directly connected with the business of conducting or publishing a newspaper, to a newspaper office, or directly between newspaper offices).

Every person employing any minor in any establishment mentioned shall post and keep posted a printed notice, stating the number of hours such minor is required to work, the hours of commencing and stopping work, and the hours when the time allowed for meals begin and end for each day of the week. The employment of any minor at any time other than as stated in said printed notice shall be deemed a violation.

Restrictions concerning the hours of labor of minors 18 years of age or older are not to apply, the law provides, in "cases of extraordinary emergency or extraordinary public requirement," but in such cases no employment contrary to the provisions of the act shall be considered as legalized until a written report of the day and hour of its occurrence and its duration is sent to the commissioner of labor. (The commissioner is yet to be appointed.)

Other than the street trades, places of employment will be visited and inspected by inspectors of the state board.

And the Penalties

Any person acting for himself or for others or through agents, servants or foremen, who employs a minor contrary to the law, shall be adjudged guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned for not more than 30 days, or fined and imprisoned. For second and subsequent offenses the fine ranges from fifty to two hundred dollars, the prison term is not more than 60 days. After notification, the employment of a minor in violation of these laws shall constitute a separate offense for every day.

There are heavy penalties, further, for those who hinder or delay, or who refuse to admit or lock out the officer of the law, or who withhold information from them. There is punishment, too, for all who furnish supplies to boys in the "street trades" contrary to the law.

Parents, guardians and custodians are not overlooked in the "penalty" section. One who permits a minor to work illegally, or who knowingly furnishes to any material false statement to obtain illegal employment, is to be fined not less than two nor more than ten dollars, or imprisoned for not more than five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

For subsequent offenses the fine is from five to twenty-five dollars.

As for the minor in the "street trades," he who violates the law is to get off the first time with a warning. If his parent or guardian is duly notified, should such a lad err a second time, he may be arrested and dealt with as a delinquent child.

So far, this chronicle has had to do entirely with "An Act to Regulate the Labor of Minors." There was passed with this bill, however, a correlative bill called "An Act Relative to School Attendance and to the Employment of Minors."

In a "new" way it might be said that the most striking feature of this school law is the provision that children under 11 and children under 12 who do not read, write and spell in the English language—must attend a public day school "or some other day school approved by the school committee."

For the purposes of this section, says the law, "school committees" shall approve a private school only when the instruction in all the studies required by law is in the English language, and when they are satisfied that such instruction equals in thoroughness and efficiency, and in the progress made therein, the instruction in the public schools.

Truant Officers No More

Truant officers are hereafter to be known as "attendance officers." Attendance officers shall have oversight of children admitted to schools or to places of law. They may apprehend and take to school without a warrant any truant or absentee found working in the streets or public places.

Now, in its turn, the school attendance law takes up the employment of minors.

No child between 14 and 18 shall be employed in factory, workshop, manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment until the employer procures and keeps on file the employment certificate issued to such child, and keeps a complete list of the names and ages of all such children conspicuously posted near the principal entrance to the building. (Provided, however, that children who are over 11 but under 14 shall be permitted to work in mercantile establishments on Saturdays between the hours of 7 and 6 without such certificate.)

And it is not going to be the easiest thing in the world to secure an employment certificate. The law provides that:

An employment certificate shall be issued only by the superintendent of schools, or by a person authorized by him in writing.

The person issuing employment certificates shall in each case before issuing a certificate, receive, examine,

HORSE LEAPED INTO AUTO

Runaway Crushes Westwood Couple, Occupants of Machine

Both In Hospital—Car and Wagon Smashed

Horse Also Injured

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—As the result of a runaway horse falling into the automobile in which they were riding yesterday, W. E. Alger and his wife, Mary, of Westwood narrowly escaped with their lives, and are now at the City hospital, seriously injured.

The machine in which they were riding was much damaged, while the wagon to which the horse was attached was seriously injured.

It was about 5:15 when the horse, which was attached to the wagon of McCloud Bros., 6 Walnut street, Brookline and driven by a man named Stewart, suddenly took fright and notwithstanding the driver's best efforts bolted down Huntington avenue.

Coming down the River Drive at the same time was the Alger automobile. Just as the auto was passing Huntington avenue Mr. Alger caught sight of the terror-stricken horse and slowed up.

He threw on the emergency brake, but it was too late. Before Mr. Alger or his wife could make a move to escape the horse, which was coming at right angles to the machine, was upon them. When the horse saw a collision with the auto was inevitable and in an effort to avoid it, reared on his hind legs and seemingly leaped into the air, landing feet first in the auto. Both the man and woman were crushed beneath its weight and it was some time before they could be extricated.

Police ambulances from Station 10 removed both victims to the City hospital. Mrs. Alger sustained a broken left leg, a broken collar bone and broken ribs. Mr. Alger suffered a fractured nose, several contusions about the face and body, and possible internal injuries. Late last night the doctors thought both would recover. Stewart, the driver, escaped with slight injuries.

For the purposes of this section, says the law, "school committees" shall approve a private school only when the instruction in all the studies required by law is in the English language, and when they are satisfied that such instruction equals in thoroughness and efficiency, and in the progress made therein, the instruction in the public schools.

Truant Officers No More

Truant officers are hereafter to be known as "attendance officers." Attendance officers shall have oversight of children admitted to schools or to places of law. They may apprehend and take to school without a warrant any truant or absentee found working in the streets or public places.

Now, in its turn, the school attendance law takes up the employment of minors.

No child between 14 and 18 shall be employed in factory, workshop, manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment until the employer procures and keeps on file the employment certificate issued to such child, and keeps a complete list of the names and ages of all such children conspicuously posted near the principal entrance to the building. (Provided, however, that children who are over 11 but under 14 shall be permitted to work in mercantile establishments on Saturdays between the hours of 7 and 6 without such certificate.)

And it is not going to be the easiest thing in the world to secure an employment certificate. The law provides that:

An employment certificate shall be issued only by the superintendent of schools, or by a person authorized by him in writing.

The person issuing employment certificates shall in each case before issuing a certificate, receive, examine,

Health and Beauty Helps

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN

Mary D.: I want you to try the following recipe to whiten, soften and beautify the skin of your face and neck. It is one which you will find equally beneficial to the hands and arms. Though inexpensive, it is the best I have ever tried. Dissolve 1 ounce of spruce gum in 1 pint which is a half gallon of water, and add 2 tea-spoonsful of glycerine. This will clear and soften your skin quickly, while removing the sunburn, freckles and other blemishes.

Corva: Objectable freckles or hairy growths are easily banished if you mix enough powdered delatone with water to form a thick paste and apply to hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off with the grain and every trace of hair is gone. Excepting in very aggravated cases, one application of delatone is sufficient. No harm will result, but to certain you get delatone.

C. H. H.: The redness and dullness of your eyes, as well as the burning sensation of which you complain, may be readily cured for practically nothing. Just get an ounce of crystals, dissolve it in a pint of water and put a few drops in each eye daily. This is a natural cure which will both soothe and strengthen, while continued use brightens and beautifies the "windows of your soul," making them stronger and more attractive.

A. M. E.: You should try this shampoo, which I can use because it keeps my hair lustrous and fluffy and is cheap and convenient. You can make it by dissolving a teaspoonful of catnip in a cup of hot water. Use this remedy for your scalp in treating the hair thoroughly several times after you have shampooed it well. This shampoo also benefits the roots of the hair, keeps the scalp perfectly clear of dandruff and has an invigorating effect.

A. J. B.: Your troubles with itching scalp and loss of hair can be overcome with this excellent quinine hair tonic, which I always make up here at home. Wash hair and smooth. The restitis get an ounce of quinine from your druggist and dissolve it in a half pint of water.

P. S.: No fat is hardly an aid to attractiveness, but you have no excuse for being so fat—no one has. Get four ounces of paraffin from your druggist and dissolve it in 1½ pints of water. Take a tablespoonful of each meal and, in a short time, without discomfort or danger, you will begin to lose flesh. Remember, a persistent diet is necessary to make the fat melt. This is the only formula making healthy circulation.

Dot.: Your wrinkles, especially in middle age, are inexcusable and a certain remedy for them consists in treating the skin thoroughly with a plain almond cream jelly, easily made at home. This is made by pouring 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine in 1½ pint water, into which is then dissolved 1 ounce of almond oil. Moisten your face with plain vegetable cream jelly will quickly rid the skin of lines, blackheads and pimples, and when used for dabbly moist skin, it follows will make the skin soft and smooth. The restitis get an ounce of quinine from your druggist and dissolve it in a half pint of water.

CONNOR MAKES STRONG PROTEST

Against Granting of Greenhalge School Contract to D.H. Walker — City Council to Take Action

The main topic at the special meeting of the municipal council this forenoon was the objection presented by Mr. Quinn, in behalf of his client, Mathias F. Connor, to the awarding of the general contract for the construction of the addition to the Greenhalge school. Mr. Cummings argued for his rights, and said he relied on the opinion of the city solicitor in awarding the contract, while Mr. Quinn stated the contractor's honor was at stake in awarding the said contract.

The trouble arose from a technical point, where in presenting his bid, Contractor Daniel Walker, the lowest bidder, did not have the required check accompany it. Later, however, this was remedied and it was found according to Commissioner Cummings that it was through an error that Mr. Walker's check was not of the amount it should have been. A vote was taken and Commissioner Cummings, Donnelly and Brown voted in favor of awarding the contract to Mr. Walker, while the mayor voted in the negative. Commissioner Barrett was not present.

The meeting which had been called at the request of Commissioner Cummings, was opened by Mayor O'Donnell at 10:15 o'clock. The first matter to be brought to the attention of the council was a communication from Henry F. Wheeler and Charles H. Peard and several others, relative to a proposed amendment to the city ordinances on the positions of bill boards and the distribution of advertising matter in the city.

Then came a letter of protest against the Pillsbury estate for the establishment of an isolation hospital on that property. The letter, which was printed in yesterday's issue of The Sun, is from H. E. Worcester and was placed on file.

Mr. Joseph E. Regan of Yarnum avenue sent a communication to the council in which he offers a tract of land of seven acres and buildings in Yarnum avenue for a contagious hospital site. The letter was read and placed on file.

Mr. Connor Objects

The next matter to come before the meeting was a protest from Mathias F. Connor, against the award of the general contract for the erection of the addition to the Greenhalge school to Daniel H. Walker. The copy of the protest follows:

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 6, 1913.
To the Municipal Council, City of Lowell.

Gentlemen: As attorneys for Mathias F. Connor, we wish to protest against the award to Daniel H. Walker, of the general contract for the erection of a brick addition to the Greenhalge school, with specifications containing the following provisions:

Certified Check with Bid.
All bids are to be accompanied with a certified check of five percent of the amount of proposal as a guarantee of good faith. The checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to the City of Lowell, and the award of the contract, that of the successful bidder upon the execution of a satisfactory bond or contract.

Forfeit.
Should the successful bidder fail to perform or execute such a contract or bond his check will be forfeited to the City of Lowell as liquidated damages and not as a penalty and the work will be null and void.

Mr. Connor put in a bid for the erection of this addition to the Greenhalge school for $25,600. This bid in accordance with the terms of specifications above mentioned was accompanied by a check for $1280, as appears by the records of the Lands and Buildings department. Mr. Walker's bid of $22,051, was accompanied by a certified check dated Aug. 2, 1913, in the sum of $1103, which amount was far below the amount required by the specifications. Bids were opened Aug. 2, 1913, at ten o'clock. Mr. Connor's bid was found to be the lowest bid in accordance with the specifications and for this reason he should be awarded the contract. It was not until after Mr. Walker found that he was the lowest bidder that he furnished the certified check for the amount required by the specifications. This check was not furnished until Aug. 2, two days after the bids were opened and at a time when he knew he was the lowest bidder. Mr. Connor contends that the contract should be awarded to him because he was the lowest bidder complying with the specifications. The provision relating to the certified check is as much a part of the contract as a provision relating to materials. If the appropriation actually made is not sufficient to cover the cost of the work, the contractor is not to be paid until the appropriation is made. Mr. Connor contends that the general contract could be awarded to Mr. Connor, who made the lowest genuine bid.

Respectfully yours,
Quinn, Howard & Rogers.

Mr. Cummings' Statement

The mayor read the copy and the same was ordered placed on file. At this point Commissioner Cummings arose and said the purpose of the meeting was to confirm the award of the contract for the construction of the addition to the Greenhalge school. He said Daniel H. Walker was the lowest bidder for the general contract; J. J. Gaffney & Co. for the plumbing; and J. A. Collier for the heating. However he said the latter had not as yet complied with the requirements of the contract and he did not propose to award this contract just now.

Speaking of the award of the general contract, Mr. Cummings said if he were in business for himself he would not hesitate a moment to save at least $2200, and in this case," continued Mr. Cummings, "I represent the city of Lowell and I do not see why I should not do it for the city. There was an error in the amount of the check furnished by Mr. Walker, but this error has been remedied. When I opened the bids I reserved the right to award the contract to the lowest bidder. When I awarded the contract for the city stable I reserved my rights and as a matter of fact I did not award it to the lowest bidder because he would not do the work in the time specified."

"The total appropriation for the work reaches the amount of $32,752, leaving a small balance for extra work that may come at the last minute. If I accept Mr. Connor's bid I will add myself with a bid of $35,398 and the charter would not allow the granting. I am in favor of granting the contract to Mr. Walker, and this under advisement of the city solicitor, who has given an opinion on the matter. Before I ever thought of granting the contract, I received a protest from Mr. Connor.

City Solicitor's Opinion

At this point Mr. Cummings read the following opinion from the city solicitor:

Mr. Lawrence Cummings, Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses of the City of Lowell.
Dear Sir:

In reply to your request for the opinion of the city solicitor relative to your right to accept the bid of the lowest bidder for the construction of the addition to the Greenhalge school, where there has been no certified check accompanying said bid, the city solicitor submits to you the following:

"The language in your proposal is as follows: 'Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check made payable to the treasurer of the city of Lowell and forfeited by the contractor should he refuse to sign the contract at any time within three days from the time proposals are opened. The amount of the check must be 10 per cent of the price mentioned in the proposal.'"

"There is also contained in your proposal the following language: 'Each contractor must be prepared to give bonds to the amount of 25 per cent of the contract price, conditioned upon satisfactory execution of the contract, as required by the plans and specifications.'"

Concerning the proposition contained in the language first quoted above and as I understand the situation and the conflict that has arisen among the bidders in their various proposals, I think it is tenable ground for you to require the lowest bidder to conform to the proposals at any time before the bid is actually accepted by you, and if the lowest bidder does not conform to the proposal before you award the bid, then, in that case you will award the contract to the next lowest bidder. I do not believe that it is actually obligatory upon you to accept the proposals on the opening of the bid because you have reserved the right in your specifications and request for proposals, to reject any and all bids, and in the proposition that now comes before you, it is my opinion that you are entitled to take advantage of that discretion which is yours by right in permitting the bidders to conform to the strict letter of their proposals, especially in matters that are simply in formal and that do not go to the essence and merit of the contract. There seems to me to be a great difference amounting to thousands of dollars, between the lowest bidder who has not conformed through all formalities in this case and to the next lowest bidder who has conformed to all formalities. As a matter of fact, it is my opinion that you have sufficient discretion to accept the lowest bid, provided that the bidder conforms to all formalities before you accept his bid.

Furthermore, I might suggest to you that the filing of a check for ten per cent of the amount of the contract with the proposal is nothing more than a guarantee for signing the contract and that the check may be filed before the awarding of the contract.

The legal right is in you to reject all the bids. If you so desire, and it becomes purely a business proposition whether you shall permit a technical formality to deprive you of the discretion to which I refer above, all essential things being equal.

The essential thing in all these contracts that have come before you in your department is the sufficiency of the bond that has to be filed with the contracts such bond stating the penalty that must be paid by the contractor in case of his failure to carry out the contract and the matter of filing a check before the bid is awarded is simply a matter of formality only and may be done at any time before the proposal is accepted.

Respectfully yours,

J. Joseph Hennessy, City Solicitor.

Continuing Mr. Cummings said: "There is no appropriation from which money can be transferred as suggested by Mr. Quinn, before taking action on the bids. I had a conference with the superintendent of schools, who said all the work must be finished within four weeks, the time the school will remain closed."

Mayor Qua Heard

Mr. Cummings then moved that the council approve the award of the contract to Contractor Daniel H. Walker. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Cummings, but before a vote was taken, Mayor Qua asked to be heard on the matter. The council had no objection and Mr. Connor's council spoke in part as follows: "I represent Mr. Connor and I do not propose to discuss the legal aspects of this matter at all. I have found that the council is like a woman, for when it won't do a thing, it won't do it."

"There seems to me but one question, and that is whether Mr. Walker in not having complied with the terms of the bids, he is entitled to be awarded the contract. Every man who bids it with the faith that the conditions imposed upon him will be imposed upon all. The conditions in this particular bid were that a check to the amount of five per cent of the bid be presented with the same. Mr. Walker's check was not in compliance with the terms and to me it is just as if he had not presented any bid. We have got to be consistent. If you vote to award the contract to Mr. Walker, you stand precisely as though Mr. Walker had not presented his bid, but after the bids were opened, he came along and said I will do the job much cheaper than the other bidders. I will save the city government's honor."

Mr. Cummings: "Do you Mr. Qua reject my rights in reject any and all bids?"

Mr. Cummings: "I refused one bid, and that was one which came in at 11 o'clock and I think I was justified in doing so. As a member of the municipal council I have to take the lowest bidder. Mr. Walker's check was furnished me and I now have the necessary bonds. According to the contract work will be finished by February 14."

Mr. Qua: "Was the check furnished before the opening of the bids?"

Mr. Cummings: "No."

The Mayor's Stand

The mayor at this point said inasmuch as he would not vote in favor of awarding the contract, he wanted to be heard on the matter. He said every contractor was invited to submit his bids and all were told they must fulfill the conditions of the bids, and as much as I know, they all did but one, and that was through a mistake. I have nothing against Mr. Walker, he is a splendid man and an efficient worker. He has done work for the city of Lowell on various occasions, and his work has always proved satisfactory, and I would be glad to see him have the contract."

"Mr. Connor was the next lowest bidder, but his bid cannot be considered on account of the appropriation. I believe all bids should be laid aside and new ones taken up. The council could call a special meeting and this would not delay the work 72 hours. I will vote against the award of the contract to Mr. Walker."

A vote was taken at this point and the motion was passed, Messrs. Cummings and Donnelly voting for, while the mayor voted against.

Another similar motion was presented by Mr. Cummings for the approval of the award of the plumbing contract to J. J. Gaffney & Co. The mayor said he was informed by Welch Bros. that a check did not accompany Gaffney & Co.'s bid, which was admitted by Mr. Cummings. The motion was passed, the same voting in favor, while the mayor again voted against.

Mr. Donnelly said he received a request from Anthony Pilato, a local contractor who is constructing a road in Groton, for the use of the street department buildings. Mr. Donnelly said the contractor was willing to pay what it was worth and was voted to allow him the use of the said building. The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock to tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

LIND ON "MISSION OF PEACE"

Officials Do Not Believe That the Huerta Regime Intends to Snub President's Representative

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Administration officials do not believe the Huerta government in Mexico really intends to snub John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, as would seem to appear in the official statement by the Mexican acting minister of foreign affairs.

At the White House, at the state department and in official circles today the impression put out was that when the Huerta government was fully apprised of President Wilson's views as transmitted by Mr. Lind, a different construction would be placed on Lind's errand and Mexico would realize it as a "mission of peace."

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are disposed to await the arrival of Mr. Lind in Mexico City today before taking any further steps in the situation. This was made clear today at the White House.

It was pointed out again today that Mr. Lind goes merely as adviser to the American ambassador in Mexico City and carries no official title. He will not deal with the Huerta government only through the charge d'affaires of the American embassy so that there will be no necessity for his being received by President Huerta.

ANNOUNCED THAT EX-GOV. LIND WILL BE UNWELCOME VISITOR TO MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Mexico's announcement that John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, will be unwelcome unless he brings recognition of the Huerta government failed to draw administration officials into any expression of policy today. Secretary Bryan absolutely declined to discuss it.

His message of last night to Charge O'Shaughnessy, saying that the Huerta government should await the delivery of President Wilson's communication before taking a position on Lind's visit undoubtedly reflects the attitude of the administration.

Mr. Lind sailed from Galveston early today on the battleship "New Hampshire." The run to Vera Cruz is about 625 miles and the ship should be put in there probably early tomorrow night. Twelve hours later Mr. Lind should be in Mexico City. Few administration officials and diplomats take the view that the developments after Mr. Lind arrives in Mexico will go far in shaping the future attitude of the United States. Just what the Mexican government meant in its official statement, saying:

LOWELL BATS OUT VICTORY

Brockton's Big League Pitcher Was Hit Hard Yesterday

Mayhonn Was Steady—DeGroff Makes Home Run

Lowell got to pitcher Chaney, Brockton's new pitcher, received from the Boston Red Sox, and pounded his batters all over the lot in yesterday's game at Spaulding park, and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away the score stood 12 to 3, with Lowell on the long end. The game was loosely played, as a glance at the error column will indicate, but there were also a few feature plays pulled off. Rube DeGroff came across in a pinch and with two on cleaned up the game with a homer. Here is how Lowell won the game:

Maloney grounded out to Aubrey. Dowd batted a single to center. Runge singled to right. Chaney threw to second base and Daly threw to third on Runge's single, started for home. Aubrey's throw to Daly was wide and Dowd scored. Runge being safe at second. Howard walked. On a wild pitch, Runge went to third. Miller repeated the play that scored Dowd, his throw being very poor and Runge scored. McKean struck out and McMahon died out to Clemens.

Clemens walked. Aubrey hit to Flaherty and Clemens was forced out at second and Dowd completed a double. DeGroff struck out.

Score: Lowell 6, Brockton 3. Flaherty singled to left. Daum sacrificed him to second and Chaney struck out. Aubrey threw out Maloney at first. Magee flied out to Howard. Halstein was thrown out at first by Dowd. Miller singled to right but when Daly singled to right and he tried to make home on it.

Score: Lowell 6, Brockton 5. Dowd went out, Mayhonn to Halstein. Aubrey threw out, Runge. Howard popped flied out to Miller. Dee struck out. Mayhonn hit a beauty into right and Clemens followed with a single to left. Mayhonn going to second. Chaney hit Aubrey filling the bases. DeGroff lifted a high sacrifice fly to Howard. Mayhonn crossing the plate after the catch was made. Magee rolled a short one along the third base line and was safe when Flaherty and Chaney bumped in trying to get to it. Clemens and Aubrey both scored on the play. Halstein smashed out a long single to right and scored. All the way home from first before the ball reached Daum. Halstein went to second on the throw in. Miller was hit by a pitched ball but Daly struck out.

Score: Lowell 6, Brockton 5. Halstein made a brilliant catch of McKean's liner. McMahon tripped to the left-center field fence. Flaherty hit one along the third base line which Dee made a great stop of, but his horrible throw to the plate allowed McMahon to score and Flaherty to reach second. Daum walked. Chaney flied out to Clemens in short center Maloney hit to Dee and Flaherty was forced out at third.

Dee flied out. Mayhonn dropped a Texas leaguer into left center. Clemens dropped one into Maloney's glove, but the latter muffed the ball. His throw to second would have forced out Mayhonn, but Dowd dropped the ball. Aubrey flied out to Dowd. DeGroff lifted the ball to the center field fence for a home run, driving in Mayhonn and Clemens ahead of him. It was one of the longest hits that was ever made at Spaulding park. Magee flied to Flaherty. The latter's catch was a beauty.

Score: Lowell 7, Brockton 5. Mayhonn hit Dowd and the latter went to second when Runge dumped a grounder toward third that went as a hit. Dowd went to third when Daly threw wide in an effort to catch Runge off base. Howard flied out to Aubrey. McKean went out, Miller to Halstein and McMahon was called out on strikes.

Halstein popped up a fly which Chaney took care of. Miller was safe when Runge dropped Dowd's perfect throw, but Daly struck out and Dee grounded out. Dowd to Runge.

Score: Lowell 7, Brockton 4. Flaherty fanned. Daum was out when he grounded to Dee. Chaney reached first on Miller's error and Maloney got a life on four bad ones, but Dowd went on a nice stop and throw by Miller.

Mayhonn flied out to Maloney. Clemens batted a Texas leaguer into left

AMATEUR BASEBALL

There is a rumor going about that the Glenmores are afraid to play the Groves again for a purse of $50. The manager of the Glenmores wishes to state that his team is not afraid to play the Groves for a third time, but he thinks it is enough to defeat any team twice, without that team going looking for a third game. The Groves should take the defeats administered to them in a sportsmanlike manner, and should let the 15-year-old championship of the city stay where it belongs.

The record of the Glenmores is one that they are richly proud of, having won 21 games, and losing but one, which is evidence enough of their being the champions of the city at their age, 16 years. Any team thinking they have a right to the championship, will kindly send all their challenges through this paper, or to Manager Fred Shea, 41 Pine Hill street, city.

THE ASTOR CUP RACES IN BIG ATHLETIC MEET

Somewhat Marred by James E. Sullivan Will Light Showers Represent United States

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—The social activities attending the Astor cup races in connection with the annual visit to Newport of the New York Yacht club squadron were somewhat marred today by light showers and lack of wind. The event is one of the features of the life of the Newport summer colony when the greater part of the Bellevue avenue set gets into its sea togs and spends a day on the ocean.

Four schooners, including two of the largest, the Elena and the froilla and the two smallest, the Elmhurst and the Ahmakula and ten sloops were entered for the racing today. Among the sloops were several of the new 50 footers. The fleet also included two Boston yachts, the Dorella, owned and sailed by George S. Batchelder and the Shinn, owned by Commodore Robert Treat Paine, 2nd, of the Eastern Yacht club and sailed by Francis B. Crowninshield. Nearly all the yachts had to be towed out to the start which was fixed for 10.30 a. m. at the ocher colored lightship that has marked Brenton's Reef for so many years.

that he allows such men as Burckett of Worcester and Hickman of Portland a trifle too much leeway in their back talk.

Speaking of Mr. Burckett reminds of the fact that Red Rorty did not waste much time arguing with him last Monday. Jesse was sent into the August almost before the game had started. Burckett is about as popular in Worcester as a carload of rattlesnakes would be in Merrimack Square. He gets the crowds, however, and he should worry.

Jack Halstein is again stinging the ball hard and hitting them "where they ain't." Up to last Monday Jack was batting for .238 but this week's work will put him well over the covered .300 mark.

McKean, who played right field for Brockton yesterday, is still owned by Manager Gray. The ex-Doverite is not hitting as well as he did when he started here. He hit at several balls yesterday. McKean dug out four hits for a total of eight on his first professional appearance here.

Harry Aubrey makes an ideal captain for the team and never lets friendship for an individual player interfere with his duties. His sharp tongue is an incentive to the rest of the infield to keep their heads up and play ball. Aubrey is always right on deck when he thinks his team is getting the worst of a decision but has never hatched a plot to bring out of the game for umpire latting.

DeGroff's smash in the fourth yesterday was a pleasant surprise to the fans after the way in which he has been hitting in the pinches of late. It was one of the longest hits ever pulled inside the park. Keep it up, Rube, especially in these pinches.

Billy McMahon is playing a great game for Brockton. The local boy has one of the best in the league and throws out many a runner who would get away from another man. Billy is also hitting the ball hard and Manager Harrington cannot say too much in his praise.

U. S. TRADE INCREASE

Greater Than in Any Previous Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The trade of the United States in the past fiscal year was greater than in any previous year. Figures just completed show that it was $14,215,000,000. The balance in favor of the country this year was $552,000,000. The exports exceeded those of 1912 by $261,000,000, while the imports increased by only $153,700,000.

The greatest gain in exports was in manufactured articles ready for consumption in which class there was an increase of $15,000,000 over 1912. In manufactures for further use in manufacturing there was an increase of more than $20,000,000. The increase in total exports was only a little more than $1,000,000. Most of the imports were from the United Kingdom, which furnished $226,000,000, while Germany came next with $152,000,000.

Most of the exports went to the United Kingdom, which took goods worth $337,000,000. Canada, $115,000,000; Germany, $132,000,000; France, $146,000,000; Netherlands, $126,000,000, and Italy $76,000,000.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Forty-three men arrested during a fire department investigation of factories just after the Binghamton fire, were arraigned for sentence in court of special sessions yesterday. Messrs. Joseph Knabe and Joseph Hellman, millinery and shirt factory proprietors, paid $50 each to escape jail terms of 30 days. Employees were found smoking in their factories. Eighteen men convicted of smoking were fined $20 each, some of them going to jail for two days in default of paying. One man chose a day in jail rather than pay $10. Sentence was suspended in the remaining cases.

GUARD OVER LEPER COLONY

Man Contracted Disease
In Philippines 9 Years
Ago—Married Since

Says He Will Kill Himself if Sent to Home
for Lepers

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 7.—Leprosy contracted in the Philippines more than nine years ago, was discovered yesterday when George Hartman applied at a hospital to have a skin disease treated. Hartman since his return to St. Louis after his service in the Philippines has married.

"While in the Philippines I was a guard over a leper colony and I know what it is. It was there, probably, that I contracted the disease," he said. "They tell me I am to be sent to a farm down the river to keep company with a Chinese leper. Well if I am, there will be two less lepers in the world the first time I get a chance to kill the Chinese and myself."

McCALL MAY RUN FOR GOVERNOR

G. O. P. Leaders Fear that Gov. Foss
Would Defeat Col. Benton in the Primaries

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Republican leaders have started a plan to back Samuel W. McCall for governor, to block Governor Foss who, they now feel sure, intends to enter the republican primaries, and who they feel would defeat Col. Benton.

Last night McCall visited the office of Gov. Foss and talked with the governor for half an hour. Afterward Mr. McCall said that he had come at the request of the governor. Mr. McCall declined to discuss the probability of his own candidacy for governor.

The plan for the McCall candidacy is based upon the belief that Colonel Everett C. Benton cannot carry the primaries against the governor. At present headquarters, the McCall boom is being carefully watched, but Chairman Hatfield admitted yesterday that he had heard about it.

The conference between Mr. McCall and the governor did not lead to the practical conclusion that his excellency will support the former for governor. Two is inferred from the words of Mr. McCall, who said that no definite results had come from the conference.

Governor Foss burst out into his office with a broad smile upon his face. And he waved his hand and said "Nothing doing."

Col. Benton, who at this time, is the only avowed candidate for the republican nomination, refused to entertain the suggestion of the McCall candidacy.

LIFE'S STRUGGLE WITH ILLNESS

Mrs. Stewart Tells How She
Suffered from 16 to 45 years
old—How Finally Cured.

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 13 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 13 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blessed with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a supporting nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot overestimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by saving and nursing since I was 45 years old. I have recommended the Compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss EVELYN ADELLA STEWART, Euphemia, Ohio.

BACK FROM QUEBEC

Former Director of St.
Joseph's College Here

"I am so happy to be back in Lowell again," said Rev. Bro. Priscillianus, S. M. of Quebec, a former director of St. Joseph's college, this city, when he alighted from the C. P. R. train at the Northern station last night, coming from the Canadian city to attend the second annual reunion of St. Joseph's college alumni.

Rev. Bro. Priscillianus was one of the first Marist Brothers to come to this city. He arrived in Lowell 21 years ago, and was assigned teacher of the highest grade. He held that position for a number of years, and when Rev. Bro. Chrysostom, S. M., director, was promoted to treasurer general of the order, Bro. Priscillianus was appointed director of the Lowell school.

A few years later he was transferred to the Haverhill school, and after three years was returned to this city. Some four years ago he was appointed director of the Marist school at St. Malo, Quebec, which position he is still holding. Bro. Priscillianus always had a warm corner in his heart for the Spindle city and his former pupils, and it was with pleasure he accepted the invitation to attend the first reunion of the alumni last year.

This year he was not sure of coming until the last minute, when he received permission from the provincial of the order. He arrived in Lowell at 12:30 o'clock last night and was given a rousing reception at the station by a number of former pupils, who had heard of his coming. He was escorted to the Marist Brothers' home in Moody street in an automobile, and there a reunion took place.

The brother, although weighing over 300 pounds, is very alert, and always jolly and very good natured. He takes part in all sorts of field events, even five mile races, and when he is in Lowell he is right at home. He is not in love with the Canadian climate, for he says he rains too much flesh out there, despite the fact that he takes daily walks of from three to five miles.

Bro. Priscillianus will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet this evening, and will remain in Lowell for a week, during which time he will be pleased to meet his former pupils and friends and renew acquaintances.

HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Aged Matron Was Knocked Down in
Street and Sustained Severe Injuries
Including a Broken Arm

As the result of an automobile accident, Miss Katherine McAdams, an aged matron at the Chelmsford street hospital, is confined to St. John's hospital, suffering from a broken arm and severe lacerations about the face. The accident occurred late yesterday afternoon at the corner of Merrimack and John streets. According to some who witnessed the accident, Miss McAdams was in the act of crossing the street, when she was struck by a machine driven by Herbert A. Simmons.

The injured woman was taken to Bailey & Co.'s drug store, and the ambulance was summoned. The chauffeur shortly after the accident, made the following statement:

"I was proceeding slowly down the right hand side of Merrimack street, just ahead of me was an electric car, which stopped at the corner of John. I slowed down my machine, until the passengers had got off the car, and then started forward again. Miss McAdams must have been waiting for the car to pass before crossing the street, for without looking either to the right or left, she darted out from the sidewalk directly in the path of my machine. I applied the brakes as quickly as possible.

"Miss McAdams is 75 years of age, and on account of her advanced age, it was feared the accident would have fatal results. At the hospital it was reported this morning the injured woman was resting comfortably.

DIED SUDDENLY

Mrs. Frances A. Kerr Passed Away
At Home of Friend, While Visiting
Was 50 Years of Age

A sudden death occurred yesterday, when Mrs. Frances A. Kerr, a well known resident of this city, passed away at the home of a friend, Mrs. William Read, 13 Blinckhorn avenue, where she was on a visit. The cause of death, it is believed, was the bursting of a blood vessel.

Mrs. Kerr, who was the wife of Supt. John Kerr of the Hamilton finishing department, went to the home of a friend, Mrs. Read, yesterday afternoon, and in the latter part of the afternoon, while Mrs. Read was outside taking in clothes, Mrs. Kerr dropped to the floor.

She was found in an unconscious condition and Drs. Charles M. Roughan and Wm. A. Johnson were summoned, while the family were notified. Despite the efforts of the attending physician, the woman passed away shortly after 6 o'clock, surrounded by her family.

Deceased was 50 years of age and resided at 3 Myrtle street. She is survived by her husband, and two daughters, Doris Kerr and Mrs. John M. Dean.

2 AMERICANS

Released When Pressure
From Capitol Was Brought to Bear

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 7.—After being held prisoners by order of General Pascual Orozco for nine days witnessing the execution of their guide, a Mexican cowboy and being fired upon by federal soldiers at Rancharia yesterday, Charles Biesel, manager of the Mines Co. of America, a Chicago man, Bernard J. MacDonald, manager of the San Francisco Mining Co. of Paraiso and Ray Herrell, their automobile driver, reached El Paso late last night. Their release from the Chihuahua jail was secured by American consul Fletcher. Pressure from Washington was brought to bear on the federal authorities and the Americans were given a hearing after E. C. Burns, state department messenger, reached Chihuahua with messages for Consul Fletcher last week.

MacDonald said last night that he is an American citizen, not an English subject. Harold's automobile was taken from him in Chihuahua.

WENT AROUND WORLD

Mears Encircles Globe in Less Than 36 Days

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Promptly at 10:30 last night the Empire State Express drew into the Grand Central station on time, and John Henry Mears, the New York Evening Sun's globe trotter, had established a new mark for encircling the world. He has gone around the world in 35 days, 11 hours, and 35 minutes, taking the "Elc" away from Andros Jagger-Schmidt, who in 1911 made the trip in 39 days, 19 hours, and 43 minutes.

Ten minutes after he had alighted from the train, Mears was once again in the editorial offices of the paper which he had left a few minutes before 12 o'clock on the night of July 1.

There was a big throng at the station to greet the globe trotter and his quick run downtown was a continual ovation.

Mears was enabled to get to New York so early through catching the fast train at Cleveland. It was held 25 minutes for him, but was enabled to make up its lost time.

ORGANIZER FRANK YOUNG

Addressed Early Morning
Crowd at Mill Gate

Frank Young, who came to Lowell a few days ago to organize the machinists' union, addressed a gathering at the entrance to the Saco-Lowell shops in Dutton street at 6:30 o'clock this morning and the gathering was a very responsive one. The two or three hundred men were very much interested in what Mr. Young had to say about better wages, better shop conditions and shorter hours.

Mr. Young called at the city clerk's office at 10 o'clock this forenoon and filed a petition for an amendment to section three of the ordinance having to do with the distribution of literature in the street. The petition carried about 25 signatures and was as follows:

The Petition
To the Honorable Municipal Council of the City of Lowell, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

Gentlemen:—The undersigned, your petitioners, respectfully request your honorable body to make such an amendment to section three of that portion of the city ordinance which relates to the posting of placards and the distribution of advertising matter, as will permit, under proper restrictions and subject to supervision by the proper authorities, the distribution of educational literature upon the public streets of this city.

The Section
The section referred to reads as follows:

Section 2.—No person shall cause to be distributed any handbill, circular, program or advertising slip in or upon the street or sidewalk in the city, excepting that such handbill, circular, program or advertising slip may be placed within the doors of the store,

THE INSURANCE LAWS

Action on the Change in
Mass. Postponed

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Action on a change in the insurance laws of the order was postponed until 1914 at a business session of the national convention of the Knights of Columbus here today. This was done at the request of the board of directors so that the matter could be considered more thoroughly.

When Supreme Knight Flaherty convened today's session, he said he was confident that all remaining business could be cleared during the day and the adjournment would be reached by evening.

The choice of the place for the 1914 convention was one of the important matters to be considered. The contest for the convention city has been less keen than usual this year. Minneapolis and St. Paul appear to be conducting the most vigorous campaigns.

General Porfirio Diaz appears to enjoy excellent health. He is well informed as to conditions in Mexico through correspondence and by means of conversations with visitors from that country. He, however, declines resolutely to express any opinion on the situation.

MILLIONAIRE RANCHER ARRESTED

NANTON, Alberta, Aug. 7.—Fred W. Ings, millionaire rancher, was arrested last night on charges preferred by Robert Dilworth and Edward H. Hill of Delhart, Texas. It is alleged that Ings took seven horses which he and Hill were racing in Great Western circuit events and had them shipped out of town. It is also charged that Ings had removed three horses belonging to Mrs. Jean Mueller of Fresno, Cal., which were entered in the races to be held here soon. They are valued at $4000.

MANY VISITORS

The visitors include Rev. Bro. Prissellianus, S. M., of Quebec, a former director of the school; Rev. Bro. Sylvain, S. M., of Manchester, N. H., and a former pupil, Rev. Edouard Carrier, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Tex., who came to Lowell purposely to preach the sermon at the church ceremony.

The members of the alumni gathered at the school hall in Merrimack street at 8 o'clock, and a half hour later, headed by the Lowell Independent band, the happy gathering wended its way to St. Joseph's church in Lee street, by way of Merrimack and Kirk streets. The chief marshals of the parade were Isidore Trudel, who was followed by flag bearers carrying the American and French flags, and the school's colors, a large pennant of Yale blue bearing the inscription "Nous Nous Rejoignons" on one side, and St. Joseph's College on the other.

At nine o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated in the temple, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, especially the main altar, which was a mass of cut flowers and potted plants, while the electrical illumination was a pleasing sight.

The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Charles Audibert, O. M. I., and he was assisted by Rev. Edouard Chaput, O. M. I., of Buffalo, as deacon, and Rev. A. Turcotte, O. M. I., of Ottawa, Que., as sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Telephore Malo rendered the harmonized Missa Royale, the solos being sustained by Messrs. Arthur Giroux, W. P. Calise, Jr., E. J. Larochelle, Edgar J. Montminy, and Ernest J. Dupont. At the offertory Rossini's "Inflammatus" was sung by the choir. The solos being particularly well rendered by Mrs. Elodie Gagnon-Malo. At the communion Mr. Ernest J. Dupont sang in fine voice Rossini's "Pro Peccatis." At the close of the mass the entire congregation rendered Laval's "O Canada." Mrs. J. A. Bernard presided at the organ.

The sermon, a forceful one was given by Rev. Edouard Carrier, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Texas, who is a pupil, orator of rare eloquence. The young clergyman spoke at length on the necessity of perochial schools, and his sermon was in part as follows:

Dear Brothers: You are here this morning at the cost of sacrifice, no doubt; you left your occupations to come and proclaim loudly the beneficence of a Christian education, that has made of all of us men, I thank publicly parents, teachers and pastors, who have not spared themselves in anything to give us that education thoroughly Christian; to build our schools—the pride of our French Canadian population; the pride of the city.

But assuredly, this will not be the only object of these annual gatherings. No, let us recall what we owe to our Christian education and as a proof of our appreciation, let us return to our task in life, better men, more faithful. Yes, be men today, tomorrow, always and ever.

We, Catholics, have our faith which we must defend everywhere. It is not sufficient to be a Catholic simply in our hearts, or only in our private life; we must be Catholic everywhere in society, for Christ is everywhere and He is the King of society. We have not only a faith to defend, but also a country. Like our Divine Master we have a country here below. This country love, because He gave us the example of the love of country. The duty of patriotism is a duty of justice and gratitude. Our country protects our interests. The most sacred: our homes and our altars; protects life and property. Duty to country is a duty of conscience. The country exists of divine right and receives of God the authority to live and attain her mission. Alas! The religion of patriotism is not sufficient; understood, and yet it is this religion which gives to country its majesty, to patriotism its grandeur and strength. Our allegiance to country is limited only by what we owe to God. And I say fearlessly: The faithful Catholic, true to his God, brave defender of the church, is necessarily a patriot, defender of his country and her rights. Hence I say: Be men, true to the faith that is in you; faithful to the church.

How proud we ought to be, that we are children of the church. When we reflect upon the majesty of our belief, the grandeur of our church; the beauty of her works, how is it possible to remain cold and indifferent to our title of Catholics. How is it possible not to manifest openly the pride of our faith. And still, men there are, who believe and are ashamed to profess their faith; who wish to belong to the army of the Lord and dare not carry its ensign. We expect otherwise of you, young men trained in the sacred warfare by masters well versed in the art. You must always be in the vanguard to protect your faith, your country, your homes; always ready to uphold the rights of God and His church. When those cowardly, lazy soldiers conceal their flag, you be true to the faith of your fathers, be brave soldiers, have the courage to implant the cross and under its protecting arms walk bravely in the path of virtue. Thus will you prove yourselves strong men, good citizens, faithful Christians, and merit the crown God has promised to all who work perseveringly for the salvation of their souls.

Outing at Long Pond. At 1 o'clock special electric cars were boarded opposite the school and the merry gathering repaired to Allardvale, a most desirable spot for an outing, situated on the shores of Long pond in Dracut, where a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. The numbers on the program were two baseball games between teams captained by Isidore Trudel, Roscoe Coullard, Arthur Giroux and others. The national game was followed by a long list of sports and field events, and suitable prizes were awarded the winners. The younger element who did not care for the athletic contest enjoyed a dip in the pond and went boating, while several others gathered in the beautiful pine grove and listened to a fine concert given by the band.

One of the most spectacular feats of the afternoon program was a five-mile race between Rev. Charles Paquette, O. M. I., who tips the scales at 230 pounds, and Rev. Bro. Prissellianus, S. M., who took along with him from Quebec over 300 pounds of solid flesh. It was agreed not to publish the result of the race, but nevertheless it can be stated that fast time was made. A light luncheon was served on the grounds, and at 5 o'clock the homeward trip was started amid cheers, while the band played several selections.

Election of Officers. This evening the guests will assemble at the college hall, where the election of officers for the ensuing year will be held, followed by a dainty repast and a varied list of speeches.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of the following members of the executive committee: Wolfred P. Calise, Jr., president; Henri V. Charbonneau, Esq., vice president; E. J. Larochelle, secretary; William Trotter, assistant secretary; Joseph P. Montminy, treasurer; Edmond S. Desmarais, Roderick E. Jodoin, Arthur L. Enn, Eugene G. Ricard, Sam S. P. and Rev. Bro. Leon Bernardin, S. M.

TEWKSBURY. Mrs. Grace Foss and son Wilbur are visiting Mrs. Lovell Burgess in Brockton and will spend part of their vacation touring the beaches along the south shore.

Mrs. E. E. Morrill and daughter left yesterday for York beach, where they are to spend one week, going from there to Alfred and Old Orchard. Mr. Clayton Colby fell while at work Tuesday afternoon, breaking two ribs. His injury will incapacitate him for some time.

Mr. George Hooper, proprietor of the "Busy Bee," is having demonstrations of motor trucks these pleasant days. His business has enlarged to such an extent that he deems it necessary to have a truck for his delivery department.

Mr. William Alexander, town sealer of weights and measures, is very busy these days sealing the scales of the different stores in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Letters, formerly of this town, but now resident in Washington, D. C., visited town Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Talbot French of Richmond, Va., was in town Wednesday renewing old acquaintances.

BIG GRANGE MEETING

At Delacy Corkum's Farm in Billerica

GRANGES GIVE THREE CHEERS FOR CORKUM FAMILY

Granges from All Over the State Were Represented—Dinner Served Under the Pine Trees

The annual field meeting of the Middlesex North Pomona Grange and Massachusetts state grange was held yesterday in the large grove located in the rear of Delacy Corkum's farm, Billerica. At noon a dinner was served under the pine trees and during the afternoon there were addresses by prominent grange men from all over the state.

No special program had been arranged for the morning, but some of the members and friends of the grange gathered and baseball games were played. The outdoor luncheon was the feature of the day, many carrying their food in baskets, while others were served on the grounds. During the meal hour the Middlesex county school band played several selections.

Lester R. Hayward, master of the state pomona grange, opened the afternoon exercises and introduced Delacy Corkum, who welcomed the people to his grounds and congratulated the committee in charge for bringing the large gathering together. State Master Charles M. Gardner then took charge of the meeting. He thanked Mr. Corkum and the other members of the family for the hospitality afforded all that attended the affair and then he led in three cheers and a tiger for the eight members of the Corkum family. The roll of granges was then called by the state master and 22 granges responded. Master Gardner then spoke on the success of the other state meetings this year, he stating that over 7000 people had attended the 12 meetings held this year.

Mr. Whitney of Billerica rendered several recitations and he was received with much enthusiasm. State Lecturer Evan S. Richardson was introduced as the next speaker and he said in part:

"This has certainly been a grand series of field meetings. In West-bury the other day the king of the whole assembly was lifting more than one's own weight." There has been great prosperity in this grange for just this reason. At Acton the other day the grange gave the community a fine four hundred dollar drinking fountain. Again we have seen 1500 to 19 young people to help them get an education. This is broad work and is surely lifting more than our own weight.

"I am impressed with the importance of farm life. I am a farmer and believe in farm life. I believe in the state colleges and their extension work. It is very helpful to have these experts go out and help solve practical questions. I believe in the work of the schools."

"The grange should be a strong power for intelligent and profitable agriculture. Many farmers have been successful in a large way. What are you doing to keep your son on the farm? Profits from farming can be large. Don't bring up children who are looking for a soft snap. We all have different qualifications. Each has his field. Do not make failures of life by looking for soft snaps."

Senator Edward Fisher was among the speakers of the afternoon and he spoke of the agricultural problems of the state. His remarks were in part as follows:

"If agriculture the grange as a great body for furthering the best interests of this commonwealth. I am always interested in this great industry. I realize that agricultural interests in this commonwealth are not as high as they should be. But they are making some splendid efforts to improve. Here in historic Billerica you are making an effort to raise your own corn. You must get into our proper place and raise our own corn as well as other cereals."

"There has been a great decrease in milk cows—a decrease of 40,000. This means, first, that farms are losing much of their produce; second, it is a menace to the health of Massachusetts that more milk is not produced here; thirdly, we lose two or three millions of taxable property."

"Seventy per cent. of the milk consumed comes from without the state. It travels from 100 to 300 miles. Besides northern New England and Canada, I have found in my investigation that last summer we get milk from as far as Ohio and Illinois. Trust to me, agriculture to take care of these problems. First, the commonwealth of Massachusetts, acting through the college and the state board of agriculture; second, through the members of the grange."

"I stand ready at all times to help the grange. Any assistance of theirs helps the commonwealth and the entire citizenship."

Hon. Oliver Wilson

Hon. Oliver Wilson, master of the national grange, was introduced as the next speaker and he spoke about grange work and its object. In part he said:

"What is this great organization of nearly a million members for? What is its object? There must be some object that has held it together for nearly half a century. It is this: a better understanding one with another. There has been much said from the platform and in the magazines about elevating the farmer. After a life of farming and 45 years as a grange member I disagree with these speakers and writers about elevating the standard of the farm. If a farmer receives better prices for his products and if he keeps his boys on the farm, it is not from the work of philanthropists. It is this organization. Teach every boy and girl to understand that the same energy spent on the farm will bring as much return as going into law, politics, business, or any industry or profession. Teach them, secondly, that the opportunity to receive practical education is as good as if they were poor and were reared in the city."

Hon. Oliver Wilson

Mrs. Hall of Dracut then entertained the members with several readings. Others who spoke briefly at the meeting were Prof. O. A. Morton of Amherst, Warren Jowett and members of the granges from the surrounding towns. During the afternoon several prizes were held and prizes awarded to the winners of the different events.

The pomona committee consisted of F. B. Foss, Lester Hayward, Delacy Corkum, Mrs. M. M. Chubb of Dracut and Mrs. M. L. Hinchey.

The subordinate grange committee was Charles A. Wright, chairman; C. D. Tutin, Forrest Collier, Mrs. Corkum, T. G. Smith, Fred Smith, Warren Dutton and Herbert Hosmer.

LA ROCHE CRUSHED UNDER AEROPLANE

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 7.—Henry Di La Roche, 26 years old, expert mechanic and former chauffeur to the king of Greece, is in a local hospital severely injured, the result of a peculiar aeroplane accident. La Roche with several companions attended a local aviation exhibition yesterday. The regular aviator failed to appear and La Roche, who had been explaining to the crowd the intricate workings of the engines, was goaded by taunts and jeers to try an ascent. He ran the machine along the ground and made a good start upward. When he reached a height of 30 feet he lost control, the machine dropped to the earth and crashed him beneath it. Both legs and three ribs were broken and he suffered internal injuries as well. La Roche was well known in automobile racing circles several years ago.

LOWELL KNIGHTS IN BOSTON

Were Among 40,000 to Witness Display of Fireworks—Convention Sends Greetings to Pope

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—While 10,000 persons watched the fireworks and listened to the band on Boston common and 10,000 more danced at the promenade and ball at Mechanics' building, all of which was a part of the entertainment to the visiting Knights of Columbus, the delegates to the convention assembled until after midnight in the ballroom of Hotel Somerset, wrestling with the problems that confronted the order.

Present indications point to the ending of the convention tonight with the most elaborate affair of the week, the grand ball tendered to the delegates and their guests in the ball room of Hotel Somerset. To facilitate the closing of the convention on schedule, the sessions, the last of which adjourned about midnight, were held.

They accomplished a disposal of practically all routine matters yesterday and are ready to start on the questions of more moment today, such as that bearing on insurance, the selection of the convention city for next year and others of less interest generally.

Probably nothing was of more importance yesterday to the organization and its friends than the re-election of practically the same officers, from Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia down, to serve during the ensuing year.

During the evening's session committees were appointed for the purpose of sending greetings of the convention to both Pope Pius X. and to Cardinal O'Connell.

Yesterday afternoon, the cornerstone of the new building for the Benedictine council of Somerville was laid with impressive ceremonies, that followed a parade of the Knights through Somerville. In the evening the hall at Mechanics' building was one of the great features of the week.

Men and women from all corners of the United States attended the function, which was an informal affair and the same hospitality that has characterized the week's conference made this one of its notable events. While the early part of this function was being enacted an enormous crowd of knights and their friends gathered on Boston common for the band concert and fireworks display, which was one of the most elaborate ever shown in this city.

Reception, teas, socials and entertainments in the different ends of the city kept the visitors busy during the remaining hours and the plan of the local lodges not to allow things to lag for a moment, was most successfully carried out.

GALLAGHER'S ELOQUENCE

Boston Lawyer, Well Known Here, Elicits Applause at Convention of Knights of Columbus

At the session of the supreme council, Knights of Columbus yesterday in Boston, one of the features of the election of officers which brought down the house was the nominating speech of District Dep. Daniel J. Gallagher, in presenting the name of Hon. Joseph C. Pelletier for national advocate. Lawyer Gallagher's eloquence charmed the great gathering and he was accorded a brilliant ovation as he closed. Many who had never before heard him rushed over to congratulate the brilliant young attorney.

District Deputy Gallagher is well known here, and was one of the speakers at the dedication of the new clubhouse of the local K. of C. in June. His wife, formerly Miss Cronin, is a native of St. Patrick's parish.

District Deputy Thornton

District Deputy William P. Thornton, grand knight of Lowell council, is attending the convention as a delegate from the Bay State.

EXCUSE ME

JOSEPH H. DALLAGHER

Well Known Citizen Has Passed Away

Joseph H. Dallagher, a man well and favorably known in this and other cities, died yesterday at his home, 114 Harriet street. Deceased was about 65 years of age and was employed as an overseer in the Massachusetts mills where he had the respect and confidence of the employers and the employees.

THE LATE JOSEPH H. DALLAGHER

He was a prominent member of Court Morinack, a past supreme officer of the Foresters, a member of the A. O. H., and president of the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception church. Besides his wife, he is survived by three sisters, the Misses Lizzie and Nellie Dallagher and Mrs. Mary Dorey.

Mr. Dallagher was noted for his energy in any cause he undertook and the unflinching loyalty of his personal friends. He was ever prominent in any movement proposed for the benefit and advancement of his fellowmen. In the Foresters he held many offices of distinction and his advice on matters affecting the order was always eagerly solicited. As president of the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception church, he was devoted to the work, loyal to the principles of the society and intensely interested in its advancement.

OPPOSED A.F. OF L. WORK

Lobby Committee Hears More Testimony

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—James A. Emery, Washington, representative of the National Association of Manufacturers testified today before the senate lobby committee to tell the organization's side of the story that Martin Mulhall began. Emery was examined first by Robert McCarter, for the association.

Mr. McCarter said he intended to show that the manufacturers had been opposing only the work of the American Federation of Labor, "taking the opposite view" on most subjects of legislation.

"We are going to investigate the American Federation of Labor, too," said Senator Walsh.

Senator Reed observed that his idea of the committee's duty was to establish the truth or falsity of the Mulhall letters.

Emery testified he had been national counsel for the manufacturers since 1907 and for the National Council for Industrial Defense since 1908. The counsel, he explained, was the natural outgrowth of the desire of employers of labor to form some national organization that might be able to do for them what the United Labor organizations wished to do for labor.

Broadly speaking, he said, the main idea was to fight for the "open shop" instead of the "unionized shop," for which labor contended.

MOONSHINERS IN FIGHT

With Revenue Men—One Killed—Still Wrecked

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 6.—Sherman Lewis, deputy United States marshal, brought news here today of a fatal battle between revenue men and moonshiners. The fight took place yesterday in the mountains of Morgan county and Morgan Kidd was killed while his brother John was fatally injured. Both were defending an illicit still. Lewis was shot through the shoulder and is in a serious condition. The still was destroyed.

DIGGS TRIAL RESUMED

Charged With Violating White Slave Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—Maury Diggs, the young Sacramento architect, whose elopement to Reno, Nev., with Miss Mariha Warrington in company with Drew Caminetti and Lola Norris precipitated a nation-wide scandal, sat behind his attorneys in the United States district court today in his usual faultless attire. Facing him when court opened were the eleven jurymen, mostly men with grown boys and girls, temporarily passed yesterday. None of the defense's ten preemptory challenges had been exercised. Drew Caminetti also sat with Diggs among the attorneys who are conducting their defense.

PITCHER ANDERSON SOLD

Brockton Twirler Goes to Red Sox

Pitcher Anderson of the Brockton team was sold yesterday to the Boston Red Sox and joined the Boston team yesterday. Mgr. Harrington of the Brockton club has announced no price, but it is reported that the world's champion paid $5000 in cash and Pitcher Chaney in exchange for Anderson. Chaney arrived at Spaulding park shortly after the Brockton club had taken the field for practice pitched yesterday afternoon's game. Anderson is considered the most effective pitcher in the New England league.

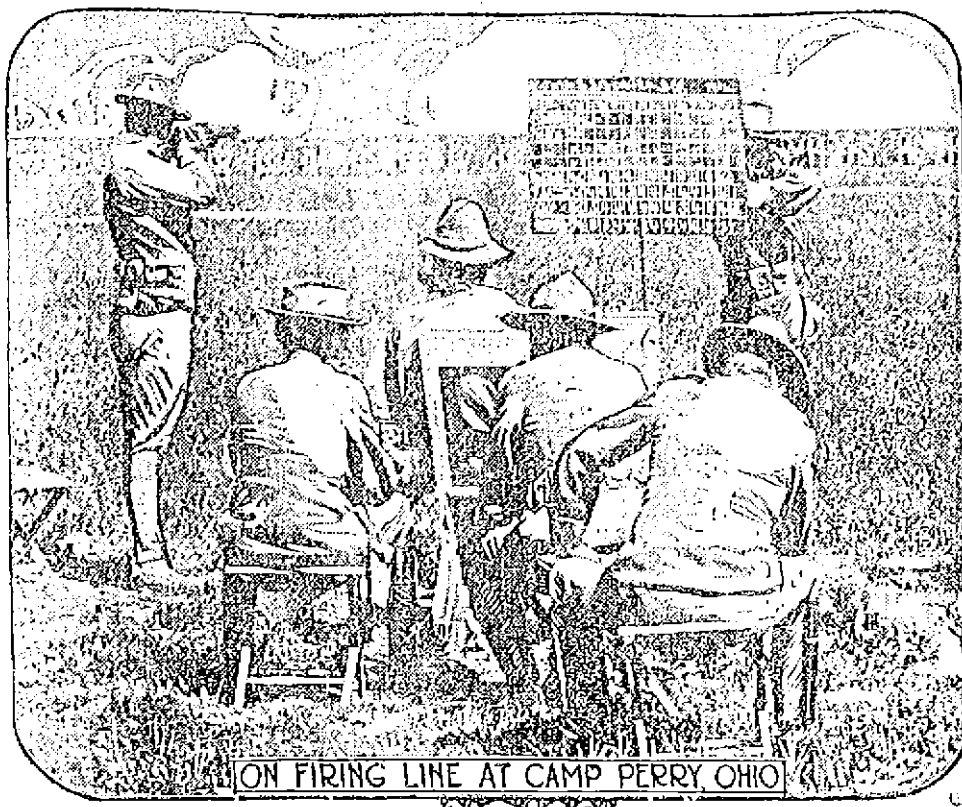

The license commissioners held a meeting yesterday and granted several minor licenses. It was voted to grant a transfer to Cunningham & Co. for their first class license from 140 Worthen street to 125 Fayette street.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Wrinkles

(From Woman's Tribune)
A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis ground or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a sea trip, often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is merciful wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or injury. As the skin comes off in visible invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is shown. Get an ounce of prepeeled wax at your druggists and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. In a week or so you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a most delicate whiteness.

CRACK RIFLE TEAMS OF WORLD ASSEMBLE

AT CAMP PERRY, OHIO, FOR BIG MATCHES

ON FIRING LINE AT CAMP PERRY OHIO

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 7.—Rifle cracks, representing a score of countries assembled here for the international rifle matches to be shot here from August 15 to Sept. 3. Americans hoped to do as well as they did last year, when they brought back laurels from Stockholm, Buenos Aires and Ottawa. In straight shooting at targets with military rifles Americans have little fear from their foreign competitors, but some of the matches arranged for the Camp Perry meeting present unusual features, and they may trip up the marksmen of the states. The hard test will come in what is termed "the international rifle shooting championship of the world." It is a competition which has been going on for sixteen years among the European nations and in which the honors have easily gone to the Swedes. These fellows with the cross-barred legs and the eyes trained to hunt the chamois on his native crags have walked away with fifteen of the sixteen of the former matches. The match calls for shooting at 300 metres against decimal ring targets, using what is designated as the "free" rifle. There is no limit to the weight of the gun. It is equipped with a hair trigger, and the stock is shaped so that it fits the contour of the shoulder and face. In the standing position the arm is supported by a palm rest that extends under the barrel with the knob at the end. The knob is held in the palm of the hand. The stocks are so made as to be adjustable at different angles for different positions. The shooting is done in three positions, the marksman being required to take forty shots standing, forty shots kneeling and forty shots prone.

EDDIE SHOULD WORRY

When Doctor Took His Own Medicine

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Dr. Thomas C. McNamara, nerve specialist, who has an office and sanatorium at 613 Hudson street, Hoboken, swallowed a bicarbonate of mercury tablet which one of his patients said he could not take, early yesterday, according to Dr. J. C. Farr, who attended him at St. Mary's hospital. It is said that he will recover. Edward McNamara, a cousin, visited the doctor on Tuesday night and the two retired about 11 o'clock. Edward complained of a headache an hour later and asked for an aspirin tablet. Dr. McNamara went down stairs to the office where he supposed he had left the aspirin.

CONNOR MAKES STRONG PROTEST

Against Granting of Greenhalge School Contract to D.H. Walker—City Council to Take Action

The main topic at the special meeting of the municipal council this forenoon was the objection presented by Lawyer Qua, in behalf of his client, Matthias P. Connor, to the awarding of the general contract for the construction of the addition to the Greenhalge school. Com. Cummings argued for his rights, and said he relied on the opinion of the city solicitor in awarding the contract, while Mr. Qua stated the government's honor was at stake in awarding the said contract.

The trouble arose from a technical point, where in presenting his bid, Contractor Daniel Walker, the lowest bidder, did not have the required check accompany it. Later, however, this was remedied and it was found according to Commissioner Cummings that it was through an error that Mr. Walker's check was not of the amount it should have been. A vote was taken and Commissioners Cummings, Donnelly and Brown voted in favor of awarding the contract to Mr. Walker, while the mayor voted in the negative. Commissioner Barrett was not present.

The meeting which had been called at the request of Commissioner Cummings, was opened by Mayor O'Donnell at 10:15 o'clock. The first matter to be brought to the attention of the council was a communication from Henry F. Wheeler and Charles H. Peard and several others, relative to a proposed amendment to the city ordinances on the positions of bill boards and the distribution of advertising matter in the city.

Then came a letter of protest against the Pillsbury estate for the establishment of an isolation hospital on that property. The letter, which was printed in yesterday's issue of The Sun, is from H. E. Worcester and was placed on file.

Mr. Joseph E. Hegan of Varnum avenue sent a communication to the council in which he offers a tract of land of seven acres and buildings in Varnum avenue for a contagious hospital site. The letter was read and placed on file.

Mr. Connor objects.

The next matter to come before the meeting was a protest from Matthias P. Connor, against the award of the general contract for the erection of the addition to the Greenhalge school to Daniel H. Walker. The copy of the protest follows:

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 6, 1913.
To the Municipal Council, City of Lowell.

Gentlemen: As attorneys for Matthias P. Connor, we wish to protest against the award to Daniel H. Walker, of the general contract for the erection of a brick addition to the Greenhalge school, with the following specifications:

Certified Check with Bid.

All bids to be accompanied with a certified check of five percent of the amount of proposal as a guarantee of good faith. The checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned to them upon the award of the contract, that of the successful bidder upon the execution of a satisfactory bond or contract.

Forfeit.

Should the successful bidder fail to perform or execute such a contract, or bond his check will be forfeited to the City of Lowell as liquidated damages and not as a penalty and the work will be null and void.

Mr. Connor put in a bid for the erection of this addition to the Greenhalge school for $25,500. This bid in accordance with the terms of specifications above mentioned was accompanied by a check for $1275, as appears by the records of the Lands and Buildings department. Mr. Walker's bid of $25,981, was accompanied by a certified check dated Aug. 2, 1913, in the sum of $133, which amount was far below the amount required by the specifications. Bids were opened Aug. 6, 1913, at ten a. m. Mr. Connor's bid was found to be the lowest bid in accordance with the specifications and for this reason he should be awarded the contract.

It was not until after Mr. Walker found that he was the lowest bidder that he furnished the certified check for the amount required by the specifications. This check was not furnished until Aug. 4, two days after the bids were opened and at a time when he knew he was the lowest bidder. Mr. Connor contends that the contract should be awarded to him because he was the lowest bidder complying with the specifications. The provision relating to a certified check is as much a part of the contract as a provision relating to materials. If the appropriation already made is insufficient to cover the several bids, a small additional appropriation or transfer from some other accounts could be made so that the general contract could be awarded to Mr. Connor, who made the lowest genuine bid.

Respectfully yours,
Qua, Howard & Rogers.
Mr. Cummings' Statement.

The mayor read the copy and the same was ordered placed on file. At this point Commissioner Cummings arose and said the purpose of the meeting was to confirm the award of the contract for the construction of the addition to the Greenhalge school. He said Daniel H. Walker was the lowest bidder for the general contract; J. J. Gaffney & Co. for the plumbing and J. A. Cotter for the heating. However he said the latter had not as yet complied with the requirements of the contract and he did not propose to award this contract just now.

Speaking of the award of the general contract, Mr. Cummings said if he were in business for himself he would not hesitate a moment to save at least $2200, and "in this case," continued Mr. Cummings, "I represent the city of Lowell and I do not see why I should not do it for the city. There was an error in the amount of the check furnished by Mr. Walker, but this error has been remedied. When I opened the bids I reserved the right to award the contract to the lowest bidder. When I awarded the contract for the city stable I reserved my rights and as a matter of fact I did not award it to the lowest bidder, because he would not do the work in the time specified."

"The total appropriation for the work reaches the amount of $32,752, leaving a small balance for extra work that may come at the last minute. If I accept Mr. Connor's bid I find myself with a bid of $33,338 and the charter would not allow the granting. I am in favor of granting the contract to Mr. Walker, and this under advisement of the city solicitor, who has given an opinion on the matter. Before I ever thought of granting the contract, I received a protest from Mr. Connor.

City Solicitor's Opinion.

At this point Mr. Cummings read the following opinion from the city solicitor:

Mr. Lawrence Cummings,
Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses of the City of Lowell.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your request for the opinion of the city solicitor relative to your right to accept the bid of the lowest bidder for the construction of the addition to the Greenhalge school, where there has been no certified check accompanying said bid, the city solicitor submits to you the following: The language in your proposal is as follows:

"Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check made payable to the treasurer of the city of Lowell and forfeited by the contractor should he refuse to sign the contract at any time within three days from the time proposals are opened. The amount of the check must be 10 per cent of the price mentioned in the proposal."

There is also contained in your proposal the following language:

"Each contractor must be prepared to give bonds to the amount of 25 per cent of the contract price, conditioned under satisfactory execution of the contract, as required by the plans and specifications."

Concerning the proposition contained in the language first quoted above and as I understand the situation and the conflict that has arisen among the bidders in their various proposals, I think it is tenable ground for you to require the lowest bidder to conform to the proposal in any time before the bid is actually accepted, by you, and if the lowest bidder does not conform to the proposal before you award the bid, then, in that case you will award the contract to the next lowest bidder. I do not believe that it is actually obligatory upon you to accept the proposals on the opening of the bid because you have reserved the right in your specifications and request for proposals, to reject any and all bids, and in the proposition that now comes before you, it is my opinion that you are entitled to take advantage of that discretion which is yours by right in permitting the bidders to conform to the strict letter of their proposals.

It is my opinion that the bidders are simply informal and that do not go to the essence and merit of the contract. There seems to me to be a great difference amounting to thousands of dollars, between the lowest bidder who has not conformed through all formalities in this case and to the next lowest bidder who has conformed to all formalities as a matter of law it is my opinion that you have sufficient discretion to accept the lowest bid, provided that the bidder conforms to all formalities before you accept his bid.

Furthermore, I might suggest to you that the filing of a check for ten per cent of the amount of the contract with the proposal is nothing more than a guarantee for signing the contract and that the check may be filed before the awarding of the contract.

The legal right is in you to reject all the bids. If you so desire, and it becomes purely a business proposition whether you will permit a technical formality to deprive you of the discretion, to which I refer above, all essential things being equal.

The essential thing in all these contracts that have come before you in your department is the sufficiency of the bond that has to be filed with the contracts such bond shall be the condition that must be paid by the contractor in case of his failure to carry out the contract and the matter of filing a check before the bid is awarded is simply a matter of formality only and may be done at any time before the proposal is accepted.

Respectfully yours,
J. Joseph Hennessy, City Solicitor.

Continuing Mr. Cummings said: "There is no appropriation from which money can be transferred as suggested by Mr. Qua, before taking action on the bids. I had a conference with the superintendent of schools, who said all the work must be finished within four weeks, the time the school will remain closed."

Lawyer Qua Heard.

Mr. Cummings then moved that the council approve the award of the contract to Contractor Daniel H. Walker. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Cummings, but before a vote was taken, Lawyer Qua asked to be heard on the matter. The council had no objection and Mr. Connor's council spoke in part as follows: "I represent Mr. Connor and I do not propose to discuss the legal aspects of this matter at all. I have found that the council is like a woman, for when it won't do a thing, it won't that's all."

"There seems to me but one question, and that is whether Mr. Walker in not having complied with the terms of the bids, he is entitled to be awarded the contract. Every man who bids in response to calls for bids does it with the faith that the conditions imposed upon him will be imposed upon all. The conditions in this particular bid were that a check to the amount of five per cent of the bid be presented with the same. Mr. Walker's check was not in compliance with the term and to me it is just as if he had not presented any bid. We have got to be consistent. If you vote to award the contract to Mr. Walker, you stand precisely as though Mr. Walker had not presented his bid, but after the bids were opened, he came along and said I will do the job much cheaper than the other bidders. I will save the city of Lowell money at the expense of the city government's honor."

Commissioner Cummings: "Do you Mr. Qua reject my rights to reject any and all bids?"

One Bid Rejected.

Mr. Qua: "No, you have the right to do it, but you are bound to reject only bids where you believe work will not be completed, and not to save a few dollars. It does not seem to me that the award of this contract is fair."

Mr. Cummings: I refused one bid, and that was one which came in at 11 o'clock and I think I was justified in doing so. As a member of the municipal council I have to take the lowest bidder. Mr. Walker's check was furnished me and I now have the necessary bonds. According to the contract work will be finished by February 14.

Mr. Qua: "Was the check furnished before the opening of the bids?"

Mr. Cummings: "No."

The Mayor's Stand

The mayor at this point said inasmuch as he would not vote in favor of awarding the contract, he wanted to be heard on the matter. He said every contractor was invited to submit his bids and all were told they must fulfill the conditions of the bids, and as much as I know, they all did but one, and that was through a mistake. I have nothing against Mr. Walker, he is a splendid man and an efficient worker. He has done work for the city of Lowell on various occasions and his work has always proved satisfactory, and I would be glad to see him have the contract."

"Mr. Connor was the next lowest bidder, but his bid cannot be considered on account of the appropriation. I believe all bids should be laid aside and new ones taken up. The council could call a special meeting and this would not delay the work 12 hours. I will vote against the award of the contract to Mr. Walker."

A vote was taken at this point and the motion was passed. Messrs. Cummings and Donnelly voting for, while the mayor voted against.

Another similar motion was presented by Mr. Cummings for the approval of the award of the plumbing contract to J. J. Gaffney & Co. The mayor said he was informed by Welch Bros. that a check did not accompany Gaffney & Co.'s bid, which was admitted by Mr. Cummings. The motion was passed, the same voting in favor, while the mayor again voted against.

LIND ON "MISSION OF PEACE"

Officials Do Not Believe That the Huerta Regime Intends to Snub President's Representative

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Administration officials do not believe the Huerta government in Mexico really intends to snub John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, in Mexico City and carries credit to neither the federal nor constitutional governments. He will deal with the Huerta government only through the charge d'affaires of the American embassy so that there will be no necessity for his being received by President Huerta.

At the White House, at the state department and in official circles today the impression put out was that when the Huerta government was fully apprised of President Wilson's views as transmitted by Mr. Lind, a different construction would be placed on Lind's errand and Mexico would realize it as a "mission of peace."

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are disposed to await the arrival of Mr. Lind in Mexico City today before taking any further steps in the situation. This was made clear today at the White House.

It was pointed out again today that Mr. Lind was merely an adviser to the American ambassador in Mexico City and carries credit to neither the federal nor constitutional governments.

He will deal with the Huerta government only through the charge d'affaires of the American embassy so that there will be no necessity for his being received by President Huerta.

JUDGE FISHER FINDS

Railway Not to Blame for Woman's Death

Judge Frederic A. Fisher has submitted the following finding on the inquest on the death of Mrs. Catherine Kelley, aged 71, living in Lowell, who met her death on Sunday afternoon, June 22, 1913, at 2:30 o'clock, in consequence of injuries received earlier in the day by coming in collision with a passenger car of the Bay State Street Railway company while the car was proceeding along Gorham street and had reached a point near the foot of Dyar's hill in that part of Chelmsford, in said county. Known as East Chelmsford, and I further find that no unlawful act or criminal negligence of the said street railway company or any of its officers, or of any other person or persons, natural or corporate, contributed to her death.

time to avert a collision. The fence struck her and tossed her to one side. She was removed to St. John's hospital and died a half-hour later.

In conclusion the finding reads: "On all the evidence I find that Catherine Kelley of Lowell, in said county, a widow, came to her death at said Lowell on Sunday afternoon, June 22, 1913, at 2:30 o'clock, in consequence of injuries received earlier in the day by coming in collision with a passenger car of the Bay State Street Railway company while the car was proceeding along Gorham street and had reached a point near the foot of Dyar's hill in that part of Chelmsford, in said county. LOWELL BATS OUT VICTORY

Maybohm Was Steady—DeGroff Makes Home Run

"PURE" DE GROFF Whose Home Run Featured Game

Lowell got to Pitcher Chaney, Brockton's new pitcher, received from the Boston Red Sox, and pounded his hands all over the lot in yesterday's game at Spaulding park, and when the smoke of the battle had cleared away the score stood 12 to 5, with Lowell on the long end. The game was loosely played, as a glance at the error column will indicate, but there were also a few feature plays pulled off. Rubie DeGroff came across in a pinch and with two on cleaned up the sacks with a homer. Here is how Lowell won the game:

Maloney grounded out to Aubrey. Dowd batted a single to center. Ruffange singled to right. Ruffange started for second base and Daly threw to Aubrey and Dowd who had gone to third on Ruffange's single, started for home. Aubrey's throw to Daly was wide and Dowd scored, Ruffange being safe at second. Howard walked. On a wild pitch, Ruffange went to third. Miller repeated the play that scored Dowd, his throw being very poor and Ruffange scored. McKoon struck out and McMahon tied out to Clemens.

Clemens walked. Aubrey hit to Flaherty and Clemens was forced out at second and Dowd completed a double. DeGroff struck out.

Score: Lowell 12, Brockton 5. Flaherty singled to left. Daum sacrificed him to second and Chaney struck out. Aubrey threw out Maloney at first.

Magee flied out to Howard. Halstein was thrown out at first by Dowd. Miller singled to right but when Daly singled to right and he tried to make home on it.

Score: Lowell 6, Brockton 2. Dowd went out, Maybohm to Halstein. Aubrey threw out Ruffange. Howard popped flied out to Miller.

Dee struck out. Maybohm hit a beauty into right and Clemens followed with a single to left. Maybohm going to second. Chaney hit Aubrey going to second. Chaney hit Aubrey going to second. Chaney hit Aubrey going to second.

Dee flied out. Maybohm dropped a Texas leaguer into left center; Clemens dropped one into Maloney's glove, but the latter snuffed the ball. His throw to second would have forced out Maybohm, but Dowd dropped the ball.

Aubrey flied out to Dowd. DeGroff lifted the ball to the center field fence for a home run, driving in Maybohm and Clemens ahead of him. It was one of the longest hits that was ever made at Spaulding park. Magee flied to Flaherty. The latter's catch was a beauty.

Score: Lowell 7, Brockton 3. Maybohm hit Dowd and the latter went to second when Ruffange dumped a grounder toward third that went as a hit. Dowd went to third when Daly threw wide in an effort to catch Ruffange off nest. Howard flied out to Aubrey. McKoon went out, Miller to Halstein and McMahon was called out on strikes.

Halstein popped up a fly which Chaney took care of. Miller was safe when Ruffange dropped Dowd's perfect throw, but Daly struck out and Dee grounded out, Dowd to Ruffange.

Score: Lowell 7, Brockton 4. Flaherty fanned. Daum was out when he grounded to Dee. Chaney reached first on Miller's error and Maloney got a life on four, but Dowd went on a nice step and throw by Miller.

Maybohm flied out to Maloney. Clemens dumped a Texas leaguer into left

AMATEUR BASEBALL

There is a rumor going about that the Glenmore are afraid to play the Groves again for a purse of $50. The manager of the Glenmore wishes to state that his team is not afraid to play the Groves for a third time, but he thinks it is enough to defeat any team twice, without that team going looking for a third game. The Groves should take the defeats administered to them in a sportsmanlike manner, and should let the 18-year-old championship of the city stay where it belongs. The record of the Glenmore is one that they are rightly proud of, having won 21 games, and losing but one, which is evidence enough of their being the champions of the city at their age, 16 years. Any team thinking they have a right to the championship, will kindly send all their challenges through this paper, or to Manager Fred Egan, 14 Pine Hill street, city.

TOM ROONEY AMONG CRACK OARSMEN IN THE NATIONAL ROWING REGATTA

ROONEY

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—The best oarsmen in the country gathered here for the start of the forty-first annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen on the Charles river. The list of entries was larger than ever before. Among the best cracks of the country who assembled to try their strength and skill was Thomas J. Rooney of the Ravenswood club. Rooney was looked upon as one of the most likely winners of the principal events. He was entered in the senior quarter mile dash, single sculls and the senior mile for single sculls. The regatta was scheduled to last two days, August 8 and 9.

HEADS WOMEN VOTERS OF TEN STATES IN APPEAL TO EXTEND SUFFRAGE

MRS. EMMA SMITH DEVOE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The trade of the United States in the past fiscal year was greater than in any previous year. Figures just completed show that it was $4,218,000,000. The balance in favor of the country this year was $654,000,000. The exports exceeded those of 1912 by $261,500,000, while the imports increased by only $159,700,000. The greatest gain in exports was in manufactured articles ready for consumption in which class there was an increase of $15,000,000 over 1912. In manufactures for further use in manufacturing there was an increase of more than $60,000,000. The increase in foodstuffs was only a little more than $1,500,000. Most of the imports were from the United Kingdom, which furnished $226,000,000, while Germany came next with $133,000,000. Most of the exports went to the United Kingdom, which took goods worth $597,000,000; Canada, $115,000,000; Germany, $133,000,000; France, $145,000,000; Netherlands, $125,000,000, and Italy $76,000,000.

THE ASTOR CUP RACES IN BIG ATHLETIC MEET

Somewhat Marred by Light Showers Represent United States.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—The social activities attending the Astor cup races in connection with the annual visit to Newport of the New York Yacht club squadron were somewhat marred today by light showers and lack of wind. The event is one of the features of the life of the Newport summer colony when the greater part of the Bellevue avenue set gets into its sea togs and spends a day on the ocean.

Four schooners, including two of the largest, the Elena and the Froila and the two smallest, the Elanah and the Almahak, and ten sloops were entered for the racing today. Among the sloops were several of the new 50 footers. The fleet also included two Boston yachts, the Danforth, owned and sailed by George S. Batchelder and the Shinn, owned by Commander Robert Treat Paine, 2nd, of the Eastern Yacht club and sailed by Francis B. Crowninshield. Nearly all the yachts had to be towed out to the start which was fixed for 10:30 a. m. at the orange-colored lights which has marked Brenton's Reef for so many years.

that he allows such men as Burkett of Worcester and Hickman of Portland a trifle too much leeway in their back talk.

Speaking of Mr. Burkett reminds of the fact that Rod Royce did not waste much time arguing with him last Monday. Jesse was sent into the dugout almost before the game had started. Burkett is about as popular in Worcester as a carload of rattlesnakes would be in Merrimack Square. He gets the crowds, however, and he should worry.

Jack Halstein is again stinging the ball hard and hitting them "where they ain't." Up to last Monday Jack was batting for .392 but this week's work will put him well over the coveted .300 mark.

McKoon, who played right field for Brockton yesterday, is still owned by Manager Gray. The ex-Doverite is not hitting as well as he did when he started here. He hit at several 100 balls yesterday. McKoon dug out four hits for a total of eight on his first professional appearance here.

Harry Aubrey makes an ideal captain for the team and never lets friendship for an individual player interfere with his duties. His sharp tongue is an incentive to the rest of the infield to keep their heads up and play ball. Aubrey is always right on duck when he thinks his team is getting the worst of a decision but has never handicapped the club by being put out of the game for umpire balling.

DeGroff's smash in the fourth yesterday was a pleasant surprise to the fans after the way in which he has been hitting in the pinches of late. It was one of the longest hits ever pulled inside the park. Keep it up, Rubie, especially in these pinches.

Billy McMahon is playing a great game for Brockton. The Lowell has had one of the best whips in the league and throws out many a runner who would get away from another man. Billy is also hitting the ball hard and Manager Harrison cannot say too much in his praise.

GUARD OVER LEPER COLONY

Man Contracted Disease
In Philippines 9 Years
Ago—Married Since

Says He Will Kill Himself if Sent to Home
for Lepers

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 7.—Leprosy contracted in the Philippines more than nine years ago, was discovered yesterday when George Hartman applied at a hospital to have a skin disease treated. Hartman since his return to St. Louis after his service in the Philippines has married.

"While in the Philippines I was a guard over a leper colony and I know what it is. It was there, probably, that I contracted the disease," he said. "They tell me I am to be sent to a farm down the river to keep company with a Chinese leper. Well if I am there will be two less lepers in the world the first time I get a chance to kill the Chinese and myself."

MCCALL MAY RUN

URGED TO BE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

G. O. P. Leaders Fear that Gov. Foss Would Defeat Col. Benton in the Primaries

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Republican leaders have started a plan to back Samuel W. McCall for governor, to block Governor Foss who, they now feel sure, intends to enter the republican primaries, and who they feel would defeat Col. Benton.

Last night McCall visited the office of Gov. Foss and talked with the governor for half an hour. Afterward Mr. McCall said that he had come at the request of the governor.

Mr. McCall declined to discuss the probability of his own candidacy for governor.

The plan for the McCall candidacy is based upon the belief that Colonel Everett C. Benton cannot carry the primaries against the governor. At republican headquarters, the McCall boom is being carefully guarded, but Chairman Hatfield admitted yesterday that he had heard about it.

The conference between Mr. McCall and the governor did not lead to the practical conclusion that his excellency will support the former for governor. This is inferred from the words of Mr. McCall, who said that no definite results had come from the conference.

Governor Foss burst into his office with a broad smile upon his face, and he waved his hand and said "Nothing doing."

Col. Benton, who, at this time, is the only avowed candidate for the republican nomination, refused to entertain the suggestion of the McCall candidacy.

LIFE'S STRUGGLE WITH ILLNESS

Mrs. Stewart Tells How She
Suffered from 16 to 45 years
old—How Finally Cured.

Euphemia, Ohio.—"Because of total ignorance of how to care for myself when verging into womanhood, and from taking cold when going to school, I suffered from a displacement, and each month I had severe pains and nausea which always meant a lay-off from work for two to four days from the time I was 16 years old.

"I went to Kansas to live with my sister and while there a doctor told me of the Pinkham remedies but I did not use them then as my faith in patent medicines was limited. After my sister died I came home to Ohio to live and that has been my home for the last 18 years.

"The Change of Life came when I was 47 years old and about this time I saw my physical condition plainly described in one of your advertisements. Then I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot tell you or any one the relief it gave me in the first three months. It put me right where I need not lay off every month and during the last 18 years I have not paid out two dollars to a doctor, and have been blessed with excellent health for a woman of my age and I can thank Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it.

"Since the Change of Life is over I have been a maternity nurse and being wholly self-supporting I cannot over estimate the value of good health. I have now earned a comfortable little home just by sewing and nursing since I was 52 years old. I have recommended the compound to many with good results, as it is excellent to take before and after childbirth."—Miss EVELYN ADELIA STEWART, Euphemia, Ohio.

BACK FROM QUEBEC

Former Director of St.
Joseph's College Here

"I am so happy to be back in Lowell again," said Rev. Bro. Priscillianus, S. M., of Quebec, a former director of St. Joseph's college, this city, when he alighted from the C. P. R. train at the Northern station last night, coming from the Canadian city to attend the second annual reunion of St. Joseph's college alumni.

Rev. Bro. Priscillianus was one of the first Marist Brothers to come to this city. He arrived in Lowell 21 years ago, and was assigned teacher of the highest grade. He held that position for a number of years, and when Rev. Bro. Chrysostom, S. M., director of the order, Bro. Priscillianus was appointed director of the Lowell school.

A few years later he was transferred to the Haverhill school, and after three years was returned to this city. Some four years ago he was appointed director of the Marist school at St. John, Quebec, which position he is still holding. Bro. Priscillianus always had a warm corner in his heart for the Lowell city and his former pupils, and it was with pleasure he accepted the invitation to attend the first reunion of the alumni last year.

This year he was not sure of coming until the last minute, when he received permission from the principal of the order. He arrived in Lowell at 7:25 o'clock last night and was given a rousing reception at the station by a number of former pupils who had heard of his coming. He was escorted to the Marist Brothers' home in Moody street in an automobile, and there a reunion took place.

The brother, although weighing over 300 pounds, is very alert, and always jolly and very good natured. He takes part in all sorts of field events, even five mile races, and when he is in Lowell he is right at home. He is not in love with the Canadian climate, for he says he gains too much flesh out there, despite the fact that he takes daily walks of from three to five miles.

Bro. Priscillianus will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet this evening, and will remain in Lowell for a week, during which time he will be pleased to meet his former pupils and friends and renew acquaintances.

Addressed Early Morning Crowd at Mill Gate

As the result of an automobile accident, Miss Katherine McDams, an aged matron at the Chelmsford street hospital, is confined to St. John's hospital, suffering from a broken arm and severe lacerations about the face. The accident occurred late yesterday afternoon at the corner of Merrimack and John streets. According to some who witnessed the accident, Miss McDams was in the act of crossing the street, when she was struck by a machine driven by Herbert A. Simmons.

The injured woman was taken to Bailey & Co's drug store, and the ambulance was summoned. The chauffeur shortly after the accident, made the following statement:

"I was proceeding slowly down the right hand side of Merrimack street. Just ahead of me was an electric car, which stopped at the corner of John. I slowed down my machine, until the passengers had got off the car, and then started forward again. Miss McDams must have been waiting for the car to pass before crossing the street, for without looking, either to the right or left, she darted out from the sidewalk directly in the path of my machine. I applied the brakes as quickly as possible."

Miss McDams is 75 years of age, and on account of her advanced age, it was feared the accident would have fatal results. At the hospital it was reported this morning the injured woman was resting comfortably.

DIED SUDDENLY

Mrs. Frances A. Kerr Passed Away

At Home of Friend, While Visiting

Was 50 Years of Age

A sudden death occurred yesterday, when Mrs. Frances A. Kerr, a well known resident of this city passed away at the home of a friend, Mrs. William Read, 13 Blinckhorn avenue, where she was on a visit. The cause of death, it is believed, was the bursting of a blood vessel.

Mrs. Kerr, who was the wife of Capt. John Kerr of the Hamilton finishing department, went to the home of a friend, Mrs. Read, yesterday afternoon, and in the latter part of the afternoon, while Mrs. Read was out, she was taking in clothes, Mrs. Kerr dropped to the floor.

She was found in an unconscious condition and Mrs. Charles M. Bonham, an aunt of Mrs. Kerr, were summoned, while the family was notified. Despite the efforts of the attending physician, the woman passed away shortly after 6 o'clock, surrounded by her family.

Deceased was 50 years of age and resided at 5 North street. She is survived by her husband, and two daughters, Doris Kerr and Mrs. John M. Dean.

Released When Pressure From Capitol Was Brought to Bear

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 7.—After being held prisoners by order of General Pascual Orozco for nine days witnessing the execution of their guide, a Mexican cowboy and being fired upon by federal soldiers at Rancharia yesterday, Charles Hest, manager of the Mines Co. of America, a Chicago man, Edward J. MacDonald, manager of the San Patricio Mining Co. of Parral and Ray Herrel, their automobile driver, reached El Paso late last night.

Their release from the Chihuahua jail was secured by American consul Letcher. Pressure from Washington was brought to bear on the federal authorities and the Americans were given a hearing after E. C. Burns, state department messenger, reached Chihuahua with messages for Consul Letcher last week.

THE INSURANCE LAWS

Action on the Change in
Mass. Postponed

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—Action on a change in the insurance laws of the order was postponed until 1914 at a business session of the national convention of the Knights of Columbus here today. This was done at the request of the board of directors so that the matter could be considered more thoroughly.

When Supreme Knight Flaherty convened today's session he said he was confident that all remaining business could be cleared during the day and the adjournment would be reached by evening.

The choice of the place for the 1914 convention was one of the important matters to be considered. The contest for the convention city has been less keen than usual this year. Minneapolis and St. Paul appear to be conducting the most vigorous campaigns.

It is also charged that Ings had removed three horses belonging to Mrs. Jean Mueller of Fresno, Cal., which were entered in the races to be held here soon. They are valued at $4000.

school. The visitors include Rev. Bro. P. J. Sullivan, S. M., of Quebec, a former director of the school; Rev. Bro. Sullivan, S. M., of Manchester, N. H., and a former pupil, Rev. Edward Carrier, O. M. I., of St. Antonio, Tex., who came to Lowell purposely to preach the sermon at the church ceremony.

The members of the alumni gathered at the school hall in Merrimack street at 8 o'clock, and a half hour later, headed by the Lowell Independent band, the happy gathering wended its way to St. Joseph's church in Lee street, by way of Merrimack and Kirk streets. The chief marshal of the parade was Theodore Truitt, who was followed by flag bearers carrying the American and French flags, and the school's colors, a large pennant of Yale blue bearing the inscription "Nons Nons Summorum" on one side, and St. Joseph's College on the other.

Solemn High Mass

At nine o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated in the temple, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, especially the main altar, which was a mass of cut flowers and scented plants, while the clerical illumination was a pleasing sight.

The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Charles Audette, O. M. I., and he was assisted by Rev. Edmund Chapin, O. M. I., of Buffalo, as deacon, and Rev. A. Turcotte, O. M. I., of Ottawa, Que., as sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Telesphore Majo rendered the harmonized Missa Royale, the solos being sustained by Messrs. Arthur Giroux, W. P. Calise, Jr., E. J. Larchelle, Edgar J. Montmarquet, and Ernest J. Dupont. At the offertory Rossini's "Innamoratus" was sung by the choir. The roles being particularly well rendered by Mrs. Elodie Macdonald-Majo. At the communion Mr. Ernest J. Dupont sang in fine voice Rossini's "Pro Pectore." At the close of the mass the entire congregation rendered Lavallee's "O Canada." Mrs. J. A. Bernard presided at the organ.

Priest From Texas

The sermon, a forceful one was given by Rev. Edward Carrier, O. M. I., of San Antonio, Texas, who is a multiplicity of rare qualities. The young cleric spoke at length on the necessity of parental schools, and his sermon was in part as follows:

Dear Brothers: You are here this morning at the cost of sacrifice, and doubtless you left your occupations to come and proclaim loudly the beneficence of a Christian education, that has made of all us—men—to thank publicly parents, teachers and pastors who have done their duty in educating their children. To build our schools—the pride of our French Canadian population; the pride of the city.

But assuredly, this will not be the only object of these annual gatherings. No, let us recall what we owe to this Christian formation and as a point of our appreciation, let us recall to our task in life, better men, more faithful. Yes, be men today, tomorrow, always and ever.

We, Catholics, have our faith which we must defend everywhere. It is not sufficient to be a Catholic simply in our hearts, or only in our private life; we must be Catholic everywhere and in all that we do. We have not only a faith to defend, but also a country. Let us defend this country, because he gave us the example of the love of country.

The duty of patriotism is a duty of justice and gratitude. Our country protects our interests. The most sacred: our homes and our altars; protects life and property. Duty to country is a duty of conscience.

The country exists of right and respect of God, the authority of the law and attain her mission. Alas! The religion of patriotism is not sufficient; understood, and yet it is this religion which gives to country its majesty, to patriotism its grandeur and strength. Our allegiance to country is limited only by what we owe to God. And I say fearlessly: The faithful Catholic, true to his God, brave defender of the church, is necessarily a patriot, defender of his country and his rights. Hence I say: Be men, true to the faith that is in you; faithful to the church.

How proud we ought to be, that we are children of the church. When we reflect upon the majesty of our belief, the majesty of our church; the beauty of her works, how is it possible to remain cold and indifferent to our title of Catholics. How is it possible not to manifest openly the pride of our faith. And still, men there are, who believe and are ashamed to profess their faith; who wish to belong to the army of the Lord and dare not carry its ensign. We expect otherwise of you, young men trained in the sacred warfare by masters well versed in the art. You must always be in the country; your faith, your country; your duty, always ready to uphold the rights of God and his church. When these cowardly, lazy soldiers conceal their flag, you be true to the faith of your fathers, be brave soldiers, have the courage to implant the cross and under its protecting arms walk bravely in the path of virtue. Thus will you prove yourselves strong men, good citizens, faithful Christians and merit the crown God has promised to all who work perseveringly for the salvation of their souls.

At 1 o'clock special electric cars were loaded opposite the school and the merry gathering repaired to Allandale, a most desirable spot for an outing, situated on the shores of Long pond in Dorset, where a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. The numbers on the program were two baseball games between teams captained by Isidore Trudel, Rosalie Cous-lard, Arthur Giroux and others.

The national games were followed by a long list of sports and field events, and valuable prizes were awarded the winners. The younger element who did not care for the athletic contest enjoyed a dip in the pond and went boating, while several others gathered in the beautiful pine grove and listened to a fine concert given by the band.

One of the most spectacular feats of the afternoon program was a five-mile race between Rev. Charles Audette, O. M. I., who tips the scales at 250 pounds, and Rev. Bro. Priscillan, S. M., who took along with him from Quebec over 300 pounds of solid flesh. It was agreed not to publish the result of the race, but nevertheless it can be stated that fast time was made.

A light luncheon was served on the grounds, and at 5 o'clock the homeward trip was started amid cheers, while the band played several selections.

BIG GRANGE MEETING

At Delacy Corkum's Farm in Billerica

GRANGERS GIVE THREE CHEERS FOR CORKUM FAMILY

Grangers from All Over the State Were Represented—Dinner Served Under the Pine Trees

The annual field meeting of the Middlesex North Penna. Grange and Massachusetts state grange was held yesterday in the large grove located in the rear of Delacy Corkum's farm in Billerica. At noon a dinner was served under the pine trees and during the afternoon there were addresses by prominent grange men from all over the state.

A special program had been arranged for the morning, but some of the members and friends of the grange gathered and baseball games were played. The outdoor luncheon was a feature of the day, many carrying their food in baskets, while others were served on the grounds. During the meal hour the Middlesex county school band played several selections.

Lester R. Hayward, master of the state pennsylvania grange, opened the afternoon exercises and introduced Delacy Corkum, who welcomed the people to his grounds and congratulated the committee in charge for bringing the large gathering together.

State Master Charles M. Gardner then took charge of the meeting. He thanked Mr. Corkum and the other members of the family for the hospitality afforded all that attended the affair and then he led in three cheers and a tiger for the eight members of the Corkum family. The roll of granges was then called by the state master and 32 granges responded. Master Gardner then spoke on the success of the other state meetings this year, he stating that over 7000 people had attended the 12 meetings held this year.

Mr. Whitney of Billerica rendered several recitations and he was received with much enthusiasm.

State Lecturer Evan S. Richardson was introduced as the next speaker and he said in part:

"This has certainly been a grand series of field meetings. In Westboro the other day the idea of the whole meeting was 'lifting more than one's own weight.' There has been great prosperity in this grange for just this reason. At the other day the grange gave the community a fine four hundred dollar drinking fountain. Again we have lent $1500 to 15 young people to help them get an education. This is broad work and is surely lifting more than our own weight."

"I am impressed with the importance of 1 and 2 farm life, and believe in farm life. I believe in the state colleges and their extension work. It is very helpful to have these experts go out and help solve practical questions. I believe in the work of the schools."

"The grange should be a strong power for intelligent and profitable agriculture. Many farmers have been successful in a large way. What are you doing to keep your son on the farm? Profits from farming can be large."

"Don't bring up children who are looking for a soft snap. We all have different qualifications. Each has his field. Do not make failures of life by looking for soft snaps."

Senator Edward Fisher was among the speakers of the afternoon and he spoke of the agricultural problems of the state. His remarks were in part as follows:

"I appreciate the grange as a great body for furthering the best interests of this commonwealth. I am always interested in this great industry. I realize that agricultural interests in this commonwealth are not as high as they should be. But they are making some splendid efforts to improve. Here in historic Billerica you are making an effort to raise your own corn. We must get into our proper place and raise our own corn as well as other cereals."

"There has been a great decrease in milk cows—a decrease of 40,000. This means that farms are losing much of their produce; second, it is a menace to the health of Massachusetts; third, more milk is not produced here; thirdly, we lose two or three millions of taxable property."

"Several per cent. of the milk consumed comes from without the state. It travels from 100 to 300 miles. Besides northern New England and Canada, I have found in my investigation that last summer we got milk from as far as Ohio and Illinois. I trust to two agencies to take care of these problems. First, the commonwealth of Massachusetts, acting through the college and the state board of agriculture; second, through the members of the grange."

"I stand ready at all times to help the grange. Any assistance of theirs helps the commonwealth and the entire citizenship."

Hon. Oliver Wilson

Hon. Oliver Wilson, master of the national grange, was introduced as the next speaker and he spoke about grange work and its object. In part he said:

"What is this great organization of nearly a million members for? What is its object? There must be some object that has held it together for nearly half a century. It is this: a better understanding one with another."

"There has been much said from the platform and in the magazines about elevating the farmer. After a life of farming and 40 years as a grange member I disagree with these speakers and writers about elevating the standard of the farm. If a farmer receives better prices for his products and if he keeps his boys on the farm, it is not from the work of philanthropists; it is this organization. Teach every boy and girl to understand that the same crops and the same farm will bring as much return as going into law, politics, business, or any industry or profession. Teach them secondly that the opportunity to receive practical education is as good as if they were poor and were reared in the city."

Miss Hall of Dorset then entertained the members with several readings.

Others who spoke briefly at the meeting were Prof. O. A. Morton of Amherst, Warren Jewett and members of the grange from the surrounding towns. During the afternoon several races were held and prizes awarded to the winners of the different events.

The Penna. committee consisted of E. R. Foss, Lester Hayward, Delacy Corkum, Mrs. Alice Corkum of Dorset and Mrs. Lida Hutchins.

LA ROCHE CRUSHED UNDER AEROPLANE

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 7.—Henry Di La Roche, 26 years old, expert mechanic and former chauffeur to the king of Greece, is in a local hospital severely injured, the result of a peculiar aeroplane accident. La Roche with several companions attended a local aviation exhibition yesterday. The regular aviator failed to appear and La Roche, who had been explaining to the crowd the intricate workings of the engines, was goaded by taunts and jeers to try an ascent. He ran the machine along the ground and made a good start upward. When he reached a height of 30 feet he lost control, the machine dropped to the earth and crushed him beneath it. Both legs and three ribs were broken and he suffered internal injuries as well. La Roche was well known in automobile racing circles several years ago.
